GIN RAIDERS DESCEND ON VOTE 'KINGS'

Woolley and Gorman Brokerage Quarters Searched by Policemen and Dry Agents; Arrests Made After Fight

Con Donovan's Premises Near Berkeley Line Yields "Evidence" Is Report; No Favors to Anyone, Police Order

Politicians who have prided themselves on their knowledge of alignments, municipal and county, and who are well grounded in Oakland history, are walking the streets today with a dazed and baffled expression.

The cause is the police raid on the offices of Gorman and Woolley, the arrest of Grant Gorman, and a police campaign against alleged bootleggers which is apparently including the precincts hitherto reported sacred. Along with the descent upon the Woolley and Gorman offices the police dropped down on George Radel, East Fourteenth street; Con Donovan, Telegraph and Alcatraz avenues, and several others, who have been directed to appear before United States Commissioner Hardie. Al. White's College Inn was also raided but nothing intoxicating was uncovered.

WOOLLEY'S IRRIGATION OFFICE IS RAIDED

Jack Woolley, for years a power in local politics and many times an issue in city campaigns, was formerly the proprietor of a saloon in Twelfth street. With Grant Gorman, he has established brokerage and irrigation offices in the Henshaw Building. Acting on several tips and on the results of a system of surveillance, the police last evening raided the office and claim that they found there evidences that the prohibition law was being violated. Gorman, Harry Daley and George French were taken into custody. Woolley was out of town.

Broadway and the city hall see in this raid an upsetting of all police precedent. Those who have thought themselves "in the know" are reinvoicing their mental stock and are sending out tremulous queries as to what it is all about. Chief Thompson says he is going to start right in and clean up the whole city, that no bootlegger from one end of the alphabet to the other is going to elude him, and that the last three months he is in office is to be made notable for the number of raids that will be staged.

"I fully expect to be chief of police of the city of Oakland for three months more, and as long as I am acting in that capacity I intend to wage a relentless war against all bootleggers, regardless of who they may be," Thompson said today.

"POLICE PROTECTION IS THING OF PAST"

"Police protection is a thing of the past. Politics and friendship will not enter into the plans. If a man is a bootlegger, even though he be my friend, all I have to say to him is, lookout.

"We have been postponing this clean-up for a number of months, waiting for the establishment of the office of a United States commissioner in Oakland. That office has now been established and the chances of a contemplated raid leaking out have been eliminated. We can now secure search warrants to enter a place without the proprietors being tipped off. In order to conduct a raid, federal officers must accompany the policemen. That can be done now directly from my office and there can be no chance of a leak. Last night's raid was conducted quietly and with results. It is an example of what can be done and what we are going to do in the future.

"If a bootlegger happens to have a few friends in the police department, that's no indication that his place will go unraided, for I am here to announce that I am out to get every bootlegger in the city. The throttle is open and war is on."

FIGHT TO HIDE EVIDENCE IS WITHOUT RESULT

The offices of Gorman & Woolley which were raided last night, have been under surveillance for some time, according to Thompson, who directed the raid. The establishment carried signs which announced the firm to be in the business of brokerage, bonds and irrigated lands. Yesterday afternoon United States Commissioner Hardie issued search warrants. When the officers arrived they found that Woolley was out o ftown. The three men taken into custody were released on $1000 bail and their hearing was set for Monday morning.

Gorman, one of those arrested, received a cut over the right eye, and Daley suffered a lacerated lip caused, the raiding officers explained, by the two trying to prevent seizure of some whisky. Two bottles of liquor were secured as evidence.

Con Donovan, one of the oldest saloon keepers in Oakland and at one time reputed a political power, was one of those arrested. The officers, armed with search warrants, visited his place last night at 6397 Telegraph avenue, where 41 bottles of Scotch whisky were seized, besides a quantity of jackass brandy and wine.

Wife Wins Divorce

MRS. FLORENCE SHARON BROWN, Piedmont society woman, who today was granted interlocutory divorce from Herbert Hamilton Brown, wealthy insurance broker and clubman.

Mrs. Brown Gets Divorce as She Revises Charges

Desertion, Not Intoxication, Is Made Grounds, Terms of Alimony Private.

The long-fought divorce suit brought by Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, Piedmont society matron, against her husband, Herbert Hamilton Brown, wealthy San Francisco insurance broker, was brought to a sudden and unexpected end today when Superior Judge Joseph Koford awarded Mrs. Brown an interlocutory decree of divorce on grounds of desertion. The decree was handed down by the court following a conference of attorneys for Mrs. Brown, headed by Peter J. Crosby, and the defense under supervision of Attorney M. C. Chapman, during which an agreement was reached by both parties that the old complaint charging "extreme cruelty" and petitioning for alimony of $800 a month be stricken out and a new bill naming desertion as the cause entered.

Matters pertaining to alimony and the custody of the three Brown children will be settled privately out of court it was announced.

Neither Chapman nor Crosby would give out any information regarding the alimony the defendant agreed to pay Mrs. Brown to reach a settlement, but it was understood from a reliable source that Mrs. Brown agreed to accept the $500 offered by Brown before the trial began and the custody of one of the children, Billy.

"PEACE" ARRANGEMENT COMES SUDDENLY

The awarding of the decree came suddenly. The conference yesterday at which the settlement was reached was held under the pretense of reaching an agreement regarding Brown's finances, in order to save time, and it was expected that the case would go on along the old lines. Earlier in the week Chapman, chief counsel for the defense announced that he had more than 200 witnesses which he could call to the stand, if the court permitted, to testify to the sobriety of Brown in opposition to the charges in the complaint that he was a habitual drinker and many times intoxicated.

During the last few court sessions several witnesses, including H. T. Harper, a director of the Standard Oil Company; George Roeth, wealthy box manufacturer and mining man of San Francisco, and F. G. Ostrander, an attorney, placed on the stand by Chapman, all testified that they had known Brown for many years and had never seen him under the influence of liquor.

DRINKING SCENES ARE RELATED IN CASE

At various times during the trial Mrs. Brown, under cross-examination by Attorney Chapman, admitted that she had been "under the influence of liquor." One of these times, she testified, was at the Palace Hotel in San Francisco after a party at a restaurant called Jack's, at which liquor had been served. Mrs. Brown testified that she went to the ladies' dressing room and lay down and that she was "under the influence of liquor."

In her original bill of complaint Mrs. Brown sought divorce on the ground of "extreme cruelty," and asked for $800 a month alimony.

As the proceedings continued witness after witness was called by the defense and alleged drinking parties at the Claremont Country Club, the Palace hotel and other places, in which it was charged both Mr. and Mrs. Brown played important roles, were brought out.

Brown was often intoxicated, according to Mrs. Brown's testimony, and the usual evidences were "a flushed face, unsteady gait and glassy eyes."

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT MADE OUT OF COURT

Mrs. Brown's chief witnesses were A. de Grassi, San Francisco bond broker, Brown's brother-in-law; L. G. Norris, another brother-in-law, and her 13-year-old son, Hamilton.

After the decree was awarded today both complaint and defense attorneys refused to give any intimation of the financial settlement.

POLICE FIND IDENTITY OF 'BABY MARIE'

Foundling At Headquarters Is Declared to Be Daughter of Nurse in Chicago Hospital; Phone Message Gives Clew

Three Questioned by Detectives Tell of Having Given Child Into Keeping of a Woman Who Visited Home

"Baby Marie," the three-year-old adventurer who was picked up Tuesday noon in the shopping district, today has an identity and a name. As Frances Spencer, daughter of Mrs. Frances Spencer, nurse in the Lakeside Hospital in Chicago, and residing at 4420 Claredon avenue in that city, the tiny maid has become the central figure in a drama of poverty, mother struggle and mystery.

The police under the leadership of Captain James Drew, have given over the day to unraveling the strange story of the baby who plays with the jail cat and calls for "mamma" in the woman's department of the city prison. A telephone call last night from an unidentified person resulted today in the detention of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Eastman until Eastman's mother, Mrs. Emma Garver, also known as Mrs. Emma Dougherty, was questioned by the authorities. The Eastmans and Garvers reside at 2514 Woodruff avenue, Fruitvale. Mrs. Garver was interrogated this afternoon.

UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN GIVES POLICE CLEW

The plight of the dark-eyed, lisping tot whom the police have taken care of since Tuesday when its guardians dropped out of sight, suffering from swollen glands and home sickness among strangers, has demanded the tenderness of the entire police force and the women prisoners. Last night a woman who refused to reveal her identity called into headquarters, to declare that if the inspectors would go to the Woodruff address they would discover the identity of the abandoned child. Awaiting developments the plan to send little Frances to the Baby Hospital today were halted.

Police Inspector George Burbank obtained an admission from the Eastman's that the child had been with them, but that a letter from the baby's mother in Chicago had instructed them to place her in the care of a friend until she should be able to come from the east. They had permitted her to leave on Tuesday with a woman. The letter was misplaced. Today the communication was produced.

LETTER PROMISES PAYMENT OF DEBT.

It was a pitiful epistle from a distant mother who owed $56 to a strange woman for the care of her child. It promised, as soon as she was able, to meet the debt. No permission was expressed, according to those who have seen it, to give her into the keeping of any individual. The entire communication was an apology for her failure to meet financial obligations.

The Eastmans originally denied that they had knowledge of the child. Later they admitted when questioned by the police that she had been left with Mrs. Garver. Neither Mr. or Mrs. Eastman was present when the woman is said to have called for the little girl on Tuesday, according to their testimony. Upon their return home Mrs. Garver informed them that she had been taken away.

Mrs. Garver is said to have at the present time two children from San Francisco and a Chinese baby boarding with her.

Baby Frances in the meantime is being cared for by the matrons in the city jail, with Desk Sergeant Jack Thornbury a self-appointed godfather.

Hitchcock Denounces Knox Peace Measure

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Adoption of the Knox peace resolution would be an attempt to dictate the international policies of President Harding, Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democrat on the foreign relations committee, charged today in the Senate.

Marine Workers Ask Harding to Be Arbitrator

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Marine workers' representatives breaking away from a conference with ship owners and Admiral Benson, today went directly to the White House to ask President Harding to intervene and prevent a seamen's strike.

The union officials announced they would ask the President to induce the owners and the United States Shipping Board, represented by Benson, as chairman, to withdraw their decision to reduce seamen's wages fifteen per cent on May 1.

Calling of a conference of employers and employees to settle the question of wages was understood to have been discussed by President Harding and his cabinet.

Chairman Benson's proposal for a fifteen per cent wage cut was rejected by William S. Brown, in behalf of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association, which already has issued a strike call for May 1. The meeting broke up without any agreement having been reached.

Woman Struck Down, Robbed, Left in Street

Masked Man Robs Unconscious Victim of $150 in Coin and Jewelry.

After being struck over the head with a blunt instrument last night as she was waiting for a car at Grove street and Ashby avenue, Berkeley, by a masked highwayman, who searched her and secured about $150 in currency and jewelry, and left lying in the gutter for several hours in a semi-conscious condition, Mrs. Anna Mears, 666 Fourteenth street, is at her home today under the care of a physician, while police of the entire bay region are conducting a search for the bandit.

Several hours after the hold-up a passing pedestrian saw the woman lying unconscious in the gutter and notified the Oakland police department. Because the robbery occurred outside of Oakland police jurisdiction they in turn notified the Berkeley department, and Mrs. Mears was taken home in the police ambulance. It was announced today that her condition is improving.

Mrs. Mears saw the man, his features masked by a white handkerchief, step out from behind some shadows and approach her. Without saying a word he walked up to her and struck her over the head with a blunt instrument.

While his victim was lying helpless on the street he searched her, obtaining $10 in currency, a watch and jewelry valued at about $150, and disappeared.

In her statement to the police today Mrs. Mears declared that she did not know how long she was lying in the street before the police arrived. She said the hold-up occurred at about 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Mears told police that the man was tall and weighed about 175 pounds. She said she did not see any pistol or weapon other than that which was used to fell her to the street.

Murdered Man's Burning Body Is Found By Youth

Remains Set Afire to Hide the Crime After Fatal San Diego Shooting.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SAN DIEGO, April 29.—What is believed to have been a murder of the most gruesome character, in which the victim was apparently lured into a deserted house in Spring Valley, near here, in the dead of night, shot to death and his body later burned in an attempt to conceal the crime, is being investigated today by the coroner and San Diego police. The victim was a man between 25 and 30 years of age.

The body was saturated with oil and was badly charred. From the remains the investigators deduced that the man was well dressed and in civilian clothes, although the shirt he wore was that of a marine or soldier.

The victim was shot with a shotgun loaded with buckshot, the investigators believe. One such shot was taken from the body.

The ranch house where the murder was committed had not been occupied for four years. John McLeod, a youth who lives nearby, was attracted to the place by the sight of flames last night. He discovered the blazing body near the old well.

Police Chief, Friend Shot by Strange Man

CHICAGO, April 29. — George Rehm, chief of police of West Chicago, was shot and killed, and Jas. Schnerz, a citizen, was wounded early today by a mysterious assailant believed to have been a bandit.

The slayer escaped in an automobile containing two well-dressed women. Rehm and Schnerz were talking together, when they noticed a man coming toward them. The early hour of the morning caused the police chief to wonder what the man was doing abroad at that time, and he halted him. Without warning the man backed away a few steps and began firing.

Two women in an automobile answering the description of the machine in which the murderer of Rehm fled, were arrested at St. Charles, Ill., late today. The women were alone when arrested. The slayer was not found.

CALIFORNIA'S INSTITUTIONS CUT OPPOSED

Senate Passes Appropriation Bill Carrying $23,000,000 After Reducing Sums to Be Allowed; Assembly Objects

Support Funds of the Pacific Colony and Delinquent Women Are Transferred by Action in the Upper House

SACRAMENTO, April 29. — The Assembly refused at noon to concur in the Senate amendment cutting 5 per cent from the support of State institutions. The vote was 20 for concurrence and 45 against.

By a vote of 16 aye to 45 no the assembly declined to concur in the amendments striking out the salaries and support for the Pacific Colony, and without debate, refused to concur in the amendment striking out salaries and support for the farm for delinquent women. The vote was 23 aye to 12 no.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Without discussion or dissenting vote, the senate today passed the general appropriation bill carrying approximately $23,000,000 to take care of the State government and its agencies during the next two years.

The measure now goes back to the assembly for concurrence in senate amendments reducing support for State institutions, except prisons, by five per cent and transferring support funds of the Pacific Colony and the home for delinquent women to the Sonoma State Home.

APPROPRIATIONS ARE CUT BY AMENDMENTS

It was by adoption of amendments, 24 to 15 that the senate last night whacked five per cent out of all items of support of state institutions, except prisons, included in the general appropriation bill.

This action was taken after other amendments to Assemblyman West's osteopath bill, designed to meet objections of the "regular physicians," had been adopted, 21 to 12, following a sharp fight against the compromise.

The senate adopted further amendments to the general appropriation bill, transferring items of support and salaries for the Pacific Colony and the home for delinquent women to the Sonoma state home. This will have the effect, according to King, who proposed the changes, of combining the Pacific Colony and the Sonoma State Home into one institution to care for feeble-minded children and of abandoning the idea of a home for delinquent women. The equipment of the last named institution would be used as an adjunct of the Sonoma home, according to the plan.

VOTE OF SENATORS ON APPROPRIATION CUT

The rollcall on the proposal to cut appropriations for support of state institutions follows:

Aye—Allen, Anderson, Arbuckle, F. M. Carr, W. J. Carr, Chamberlin, Dennett, Duncan, Eden, Godsil, Harris, Hart, Inman, Irwin, Johnson, King, Lyon, McDonald, Purkitt, Rigdon, Rominger, Sample, Shearer, Slater, Total, 24.

No—Boggs, Breed, Burnett, Canepa, Crowley, Flaherty, Gates, Ingram, Jones, Nelson, Osborne, Otis, Rush, Scott, Sharkey, Total, 17.

The vote on the amendment to remove support for the home for delinquent women follows:

Aye—Arbuckle, Burnett, Canepa, Chamberlin, Crowley, Eden, Godsil, Hart, Inman, Irwin, King, McDonald, Nelson, Osborne, Purkitt, Rominger, Sample, Sharkey, Shearer, Slater, Yonkin, Total, 21.

No—Allen, Anderson, Breed, F. M. Carr, W. J. Carr, Dennett, Duncan, Flaherty, Gates, Harris, Ingram, Johnson, Jones, Lyon, Otis, Rigdon, Rush, Scott. Total, 18.

The assembly will be asked to concur in the amendments after the bill is passed. Similar amendments were rejected in the lower house recently.

King explained that the reductions in the general appropriation bill were offered in accordance with the findings of the public budget investigation that the cost of commodities was falling.

Chamberlin and Duncan contended that the cut should be much more than the 5 per cent proposed.

MOVE STYLED STEP "DIRECTLY BACKWARD"

Duncan characterized the move to abandon the home for delinquent women project in its incipiency as "a step directly backward." Scott joined him contending "it is not right that these women be whipped from pillar to post."

The senate rejected, 31 to 4, a motion by W. J. Carr to refer back to committee a number of road appropriation bills reported to the floor by the finance committee after it was said the assembly authors had formed a block to defeat important measures by senators if the measures were not passed.

"Let the bills go through," said Sample with a show of sarcasm. "Then the boys can tell their home folks what a wonderful thing they did. Later the governor can veto the bills and tell the taxpayers how much money he has saved them.

She declined to give any reason for the attempt on her life. Surgeons say that they do not think she will recover. Her husband is a railroad man.

Actress Wife to Fight to Retain Joyce's Jewels

"I Was Encouraged to Spend $10,000 Each Month On Clothes," Says Peggy.

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CHICAGO, April 29.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, bejeweled and beautiful, bared her life with her third millionaire husband in an interview here today.

After a month of silence, following the filing of the suit for annulment of their marriage, she came to her husband's home town to carry on the battle against J. Stanley Joyce, her third husband, and try to keep the name of Joyce and the jewels Joyce gave her.

"Peggy" was wearing some of the jewels over a rich black velvet gown. A jeweled ankle bracelet shone above the rhinestone slipper buckle on her right foot. Her fingers were bare of rings with the exception of a blaze of small diamonds. About her neck was a chain of beaten silver and pearls, weighted down by a scarab charm.

"Peggy" said she was only a rich man's darling.

"He wanted to show me off and put me on parade," she said. "He wanted to make the world his doll house and I was to be the doll.

SPENT $10,000 EACH MONTH ON CLOTHES

"I had charge accounts in all places in New York and Chicago. I was encouraged to spend as much as $10,000 a month on my clothes."

Turning to the story of Joyce's courtship, the pretty blonde show girl said:

"I met Mr. Joyce the night the Follies opened in Chicago. Before the evening was over, he had proposed to me. But I thought nothing of it. I concluded that he was either playing or drinking. I laughed at him and promptly forgot about it.

"Mr. Joyce, however, did not forget. For every day of the two weeks I remained here he was pursuing me, lavishing gifts upon me, repeating his offer of marriage.

"I went to Colorado to avoid him. And after me came Joyce, twelve paces behind me; never with me, for I would not let him. I insisted that he leave.

FOLLOWED AND SHOWERED HER WITH PRESENTS

"He followed me to New York; showered me with attentions and gave me costly presents. He taught me to like expensive things; it's not my fault, it's his.

"We were in Miami when I received word that my divorce had been granted. Joyce wanted to marry me right away. He said perhaps people would not understand our companionship.

"After marriage, he wanted me alone with him all the time. He still lavished gifts on me.

"It was in Paris that we started to quarrel. Joyce came back, I stayed."

Sherburne Hopkins went to the defense of his former wife, today.

"The charges made by Joyce that the divorce of myself and former wife was not valid and fraudulent are without foundation," attorneys for "Peggy" quoted Hopkins as saying in a telegram.

French Premier to Propose Supreme Council Tomorrow That Berlin Be Seized; Armies: U. S. Still Hopeful

LONDON, April 29.—(By the Associated Press).—French occupation of the Ruhr district of Germany, it appears, will not be as soon as was expected. Because of the plans formulated by Marshal Foch and his subordinates will be discussed tomorrow by the supreme Allied council, but it appeared probable today that a march into Germany's coal and industrial region, if ordered, will not be initiated until late next week.

PARIS, April 29.—Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain will consent to the occupation of the Ruhr district only after an ultimatum granting a certain amount of time had been sent to Germany, says a London correspondent of the Matin. It is declared he takes this attitude in order to "appease those in England against penalties."

PARIS, April 29.—"At last we are going to end it," Premier Briand of France declared as he boarded the train here today, starting for the meeting of the Supreme Allied Council at London.

Briand was accompanied by the supreme military chiefs of the allied public, Marshal Foch, Marshal Weygand and General Berthelot.

They started for London determined to win approval of the other allied powers for their plan of marching deeper into Germany and seizing the Ruhr coal basin.

The fact that Briand took military leaders of France with him was considered significant. It is believed before there has been doubt that they would attend the London conference.

The military leaders carried leather despatch cases which are believed to contain plans for the advance into the Ruhr and for even deeper penetrations into Germany, perhaps reaching as far as Berlin itself.

CABINET DISCUSSES GERMAN PROPOSALS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—President Harding and his cabinet understood to have discussed German reparations proposals today. Secretary Hughes laid before them the views of the principal allied powers with regard to the offer. Meantime the United States can reply to the German communication was held up.

While the cabinet was considering the question it became known that Great Britain and Italy have not definitely rejected the German offer as unacceptable as a basis for negotiations. It was understood, however, that the French and Belgian views as transmitted to Paris were that the terms were unacceptable.

By HARRY L. ROGERS.
International News Service Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April [illegible]. Though apparently fully informed of the attitude of the allies toward the German reparations proposals, the Harding administration has given no evidence that it considers the task of mediation undertaken by Secretary Hughes a hopeless one.

Being of the opinion that the main point involved is whether Germany in Berlin offer forms a proper basis for negotiation rather than whether it is "acceptable," this government takes the view that the door to mediation has by no means been definitely closed by the decision of France and Great Britain as to acceptability. This view is understood to have been conveyed to Secretary Hughes to the representatives of the allied governments unmistakable, if informal, in conversations held with them yesterday afternoon. These conferences are expected to continue today.

BERNSTORF DEFENDS GERMAN CABINET

BERLIN, April 29.—Criticism of the German cabinet's appeal to President Harding in the reparations question was calculated to weaken still further the position of German diplomacy abroad, declared Count von Bernstorff, ambassador to the United States, in his maiden speech before the Reichstag yesterday.

"The United States is actuated chiefly by economic motives in the settlement of problems," he said. "America cannot possibly be interested in seeing Germany dismembered, or deprived of territory which is now coveted in the eastern quarters of Europe. I expect far-reaching political aims in the United States, I believe, to be an error."

Alameda Is Told Dangers Of Alternative Project

Consolidation as a whole and the alternative were jointly debated in Alameda last night at a meeting in the city hall under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, before an audience of nearly 300.

Four scheduled speeches and one impromptu roused auditors to frequent applause, notably vociferous when mention of Alameda's demand for local autonomy was mentioned.

Supporting the consolidation movement were E. K. Taylor and former Mayor Greene Majors, the latter a member of the Board of Freeholders. Opposing were Alameda's city attorney, W. J. Locke and E. J. Silver, also an attorney. The impromptu speaker was R. E. Bosshard, and his brief, vehement speech was one of the high lights of the meeting.

BOSSHARD TALKS.

Bosshard was roused by the statement of Greene Majors that in the event of county division under the alternative, Alameda, opposing consolidation, would be thrust off with the remainder of the county to shoulder the burden of the county taxes.

"If that isn't coercion I don't know what coercion is," declared Bosshard, who took opportunity given the audience to ask questions, to reply. "What we want is to retain Alameda county in its entirety, and there isn't anything in this whole scheme but county division."

Carl Strom, who presided, recalled Taylor to the floor, stating that it had not been the intention to permit any but the four debaters to speak.

Taylor declared that if Oakland voted to proceed alone to unit city and county government and Alameda were thrust off with the remainder of the county Alameda taxes probably would be trebled.

In all Taylor spoke three times, once in direct and twice in rebuttal.

AGAINST ANNEXATION.

He admitted that in the event of submission in the alternative and county division Berkeley probably would not join with Oakland.

"That would amount to annexation," he said, "and we are all against annexation."

Taylor asserted that the whole proposal now up was not for annexation nor even yet for consolidation but really amounted to federation, which ground, he argued, would have advantages.

City Attorney Locke, in the negative, attacked this argument vigorously, finding no advantage to be gained from the whole proposal of consolidation under the present constitutional amendment, an enactment he characterized as wholly "vicious."

"This entire proposition, masquerading under the guise of being consolidation, is not consolidation at all," he pointed out, "but in reality is division and there is nothing else that can be made out of it. If the plan is submitted without the alternative and Oakland votes for a unit city and county government, there will be city and county governments of Oakland and Berkeley and probably separate city and county governments of Alameda."

DANGER SEEN AHEAD

The city attorney also declared again that the charter proponents ventured on uncharted seas and that no other city and county consolidation of record could, by any stretch of the imagination, be considered a pattern for Alameda county.

"I want to warn you again," he declared in conclusion, "that this idea of consolidation under this constitutional amendment is a fallacy, a vain delusion and a snare and never will bring about consolidation."

Silver, who also spoke in the negative, made only a five-minute talk. He declared that no proponent of consolidation had yet been able to put his finger directly on an instance where a saving would be made, and asserted that under the proposed borough system, which apparently was the only one at all feasible, no duplication of effort could be eliminated.

To refute the consolidation argument that Oakland must have a majority vote of the whole county before it can divide the county, Silver read figures of registration, showing that Oakland could, and with Berkeley's assent, undoubtedly would bring about county division if the majority of the voters in those two communities really wanted unit city and county governments.

ANNEXATION TO S. F.

"I contend," he also declared, "that despite what the proponents of consolidation say of the constitutional situation, Alameda still could be annexed to the city of San Francisco."

Greene Majors' argument, the first of the evening, was confined to an explanation of the consolidation purpose of the freeholders.

He asserted, however, that if Alameda were cut off in county division under the alternative, she would become the "meal ticket" for the remainder of the county. This was the assertion which brought the subsequent objection from Broussard.

He also argued that the formation of a new public utility district plan would be merely to saddle another governmental expense on the citizens of the county about the Easthay, a thing which consolidation would obviate.

SHINE COSTS HIM $40.

ALAMEDA, April 29.—J. Clark, of 924 Santa Clara avenue, received an expensive shoeshine last night. When the polish was completed he discovered that all the money he had consisted of two $20 bills. He put them back in his pocket and went across the street to secure change. When he went to produce the bills he found them gone.

WATER SHORTAGE IN BERKELEY TO BE INVESTIGATED

Railroad Commission Asked to Find Why Supply Is Insufficient.

BERKELEY, April 29.—The city council adopted a resolution today calling on the Railroad Commission to investigate the alleged water shortage in Berkeley, following a report by Fire Chief Sydney Rose that complaints had reached him from various parts of the city to the effect that the water supply was insufficient. It is said that if a big fire should break out in some parts of Berkeley, the fire department, due to the inadequacy of the water supply, would be helpless to cope with it.

One complaint made to the fire chief stated that for four days this week the water supply was entirely cut off from 3:30 until 8 p. m., in the neighborhood of Los Angeles and Shattuck streets.

Councilman Charles D. Heywood said that complaints had been made to the water company in Oakland and that these complaints were met with discourtesy on the part of the company. A. C. Wertsington, 937 Shattuck avenue, complained of the water service and said that the water company refused to do anything, characterizing the Berkeley councilmen as a "bunch of boobs."

The fire chief stated that complaints came from Le Roy and Vine streets that the water had been shut off there and that on investigation it was found that the fire hydrants were dry. He also called the council's attention to the result of an investigation at Piedmont avenue north of Dwight way and south of the University campus, where it was found, he said, that there were only four-inch water mains; that the pressure was as low as 15 pounds and that the fire department, as a result, would be helpless in case a big fire should break out.

The chief also received complaints from the neighborhood of Piedmont avenue and Derby streets, where it was reported that the people were without water for hours at a time. These various sections take in many of the city's principal residential sections.

The resolution calling on the railroad commission to investigate the situation was unanimous.

Bribe Offered Union by Employers, Claim

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SEATTLE, April 29. — Charges that the Seattle master plumbers and heating engineers' association offered bribes of $10 a day to union workmen if the unions would refuse to furnish more than one steamfitter and one plumber to each city, county, port and school authority, are being investigated here today by the prosecuting attorney's office. This investigation is independent of a Federal probe now being conducted to discover whether acts of the organization are subject to Federal grand jury action. It is declared the unions voted against the offer of $10 a day and demanded a $9 wage, which they obtained, according to Judge Richard Winsor, former member of the Seattle school board, who is making the charges against the master plumbers' organization.

U. C. and City Health Commissioner Clash

BERKELEY, April 29.—Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Charles D. Heywood today charged that the University of California uses the schools of Berkeley for experimental purposes in sending health nurses to examine the children in defiance of the city health department.

Mrs. Mabel Mitchell, 2505 Webster street, said that nine children were sent home because the University student nurses had discovered what they believed to be smallpox symptoms. Not one of the children developed a case of smallpox, it is asserted.

A conference was suggested for 10 a. m. Wednesday between the school directors, the council, Dr. Robert Legge, head of the University medical department and some of the student nurses.

GIRL ATTACK CHARGED.

Charged with attacking Genevieve Fuller, aged 18, Albert Ubonilli, a merchant, was placed on trial before Judge G. E. Samuels and a jury today. Deputy District Attorney Ralph Hoyt is conducting the prosecution. Attorney John L. McVey is representing the defendant.

ARRESTED AS "DIP"

William Gibson was arrested last night by Benny Hayward, 720 Willow street, who turned him over to a police officer. Hayward claims that Gibson picked his pocket and took a purse containing $75.

Senate Rejects Bill to Transfer Harbor to S. F.

Measure That Passed Assembly Beaten in Upper House by 15-22 Vot

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, April 29. — The Senate today rejected, 15 ayes to 21 noes, the bill to transfer control of San Francisco harbor from the state to the city.

The bill previously had passed the Assembly. As no reconsideration is permitted at this stage of the Legislature, the bill stands finally defeated. The roll call follows:

Aye—Arbuckle, Burnett, Canepa, Chamberlain, Crowley, Flaherty, Godsil, Hart, Lyon, McDonald, Rigdon, Rominger, Sample, Scott, Yonkin. Total, 15.

No — Allen, Anderson, Boggs, Breed, W. J. Carr, Dennett, Duncan, Eden, Harris, Ingram, Inman, Irwin, Johnson, Jones, King, Nelson, Osborne, Otis, Rush, Sharkey, Shearer, Slater. Total, 22.

All of the members of the San Francisco delegation spoke for the bill. Inman of Sacramento made the only speech against it, and when he had concluded, McDonald criticised him for "swallowing administration program, hook, line and sinker."

McDonald and other San Franciscans advanced arguments to show that the State was handling the harbor only in a limited way and that the city wished to develop new industries, possibly only through control of the waterfront. Scott pointed out that it was no fight against the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, but that San Francisco was entitled to its harbor as much as any other sea coast town.

Harris and Inman protested again Scott's alleged violation of the five-minute limit upon speeches.

Inman held that the San Francisco waterfront belonged to the interior communities as much as San Francisco.

Vote and Learn Will of Majority, Rotarian Plea

The opening gun in an Oakland campaign to influence all voters to go to the polls on election days and to arouse the community to a sense of responsibility in the suffrage privilege, was fired today with the adoption of resolutions by the Rotary Club.

The first step in the campaign will be the enrolling of churches, fraternal orders and the various civic organizations under the slogan "All Good Citizens Vote." The drive will be separate from any partisan or political activities and will be aimed simply to make elections in the city reflect in fullest measure the will of the majority.

The resolutions adopted by the Rotary Club, and which are a call to the public for support of the movement, follow:

Whereas, The continuance of democracy depends upon an intelligent citizenship and the participation of all in the affairs of the governed; and

Whereas, In recent elections only a minority participated in the election of officials and in the decisions relative to important public questions; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Oakland Rotary Club heartily endorses the achievement selected by Group 5 of endeavoring to secure a greatly increased vote at the elections, and ask that a committee of Rotarians be appointed to urge that all organized bodies of people in Oakland join in a drive to bring home to all voters the Slogan "All Good Citizens Vote." Churches of all denominations, fraternal and social organizations shall be invited to join in this movement and the Board of Education shall be petitioned to authorize a campaign, wholly divorced from partisan and personal politics, urging the importance and value of the ballot and of the duty of every voter to cast their ballot at all elections. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Alleged Insane Man Argues Before Jury

George Gage, whose trial on a charge of insanity has occupied all of this week before Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco, suddenly decided to end his testimony this morning and arguments were begun at once.

Gage had been on the stand since early yesterday afternoon telling the history of his life, but announced this morning that he would tell no more.

Deputy District Attorney Wade Snook made the opening argument to the jury and Gage followed. He spoke for more than an hour and made a further argument this afternoon. Snook will close.

He will take no written proposals from the British government, but will be empowered to speak as Premier Lloyd George's [illegible] envoy, the newspaper said. The Earl had another long [illegible] Lloyd George yesterday. Assertion was made by the Daily Mail that arrangements have been made for the Earl of Derby to have a personal conversation with Eamonn de Valera.

Six Men Cast Adrift in Gale Are Sought

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 29.—Masters of all vessels in the vicinity of the Washington coast have been asked to search for a small boat containing six men from the Umatilla Reef Lightship, cast adrift last night in a 52-mile gale, according to a wireless message received here.

The men, according to the message, put out for the steamer Queen to receive boxes of books and magazines. Their boat was last seen drifting toward Vancouver Island.

Carpenter Is Killed by Falling Plank

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—As the result of being struck on the head by a plank which fell three stories as he was working on a building on Geary street near Jordan avenue, Albert W. Wooley, a carpenter, of 445 O'Farrell street, died today at Hahnemann hospital. His skull was fractured.

QUITE A HELP

"George, I'm going to be a very busy, domesticated man this afternoon. I'm taking the wife and young son down town to outfit them completely. You know; get them all in good shape so far as clothes go for the spring."

"Fine, old man; you're certainly generous. How do you do it?"

"No, I wouldn't call it generosity; merely foresight. I can do it easily. Not that I have the ready cash, but then one doesn't have to to buy at Cherry's (the store for women is at 515 15th street, the men's store at 528 13th street). They sell ready-to-wear clothes for the entire family on credit, and you'll admit that's quite a help."

"It's more than that. It's a way out. Thanks for the tip, and as a result you'll see my entire family all dolled up next week the same way."

STEIN-BLOCH AND FASHION PARK MEN'S SUITS

to be sold at

$29

If you want a Stein-Bloch or Fashion Park Suit for $29.00, make your arrangements to visit this store tomorrow.

Fifty suits, held over from previous seasons, when they sold at $60, $70, $75 and more, go on sale tomorrow morning at $29.

They're not the latest styles, of course, but half the men you see are wearing suits just like them, bought a season or two ago.

If old suits, a season or two out of style, look all right, new suits a season or two out of style will look a lot better.

If you prefer value to style, now's your chance. While they last—$29.00.

"Stickers" accumulate in every stock—the larger the stock the more left-overs there are each season. Fifty is mighty few for the large assortment we carry—but we would rather move them out in a day or two than "work them off" in the regular course of business.

THREE WIVES ASK DIVORCE DECREES

"I wonder what guy she is out with tonight!"

This speculation voiced aloud by Fred M. Kittler in the presence of his 18-year-old son, Eddie, and directed at the conduct of his wife, caused Mrs. Emily E. Kittler great mental anguish and finally caused her to sue for divorce, she alleges in a complaint just filed.

She also charges that Kittler during the war made her life miserable by his talk against the Allied powers, that he accused her of misconduct with other men and said he had no love for her. She also alleges that he cursed her and called her vile names.

They were married June 30, 1902, and separated April 28, 1921.

Alleged cruel and inhuman treatment of Mrs. Ruth Andrews by her husband, George, caused the wife to file suit for divorce, asking $15 a week alimony and custody of Edith, aged 2 years, and Ruth, aged 10 months.

Andrews told untrue and malicious stories about her, according to the complaint.

They were married January 17, 1919, and separated in March, 1921.

Mrs. Allina Pyles charges that McKinley W. Pyles struck her in the face February 14, 1921, when she refused to live with him, in a complaint for divorce just filed. They were married January 3, 1917, and separated February 14, 1921.

Mrs. Pyles asks the custody of 2-year-old Mildred and alimony and costs.

MAIMED NEWSIE FREED BY JURY

Mike de Gregoria, crippled newsboy, who was tried in the Superior Court, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was acquitted by a jury yesterday. Only three minutes were required to reach a decision.

De Gregoria, who is 22 years of age, was accused of having struck Policeman R. V. McDowell in the head with a steel weight during a disturbance among newsboys at Fourteenth and Broadway last February. Another officer who testified in the case, said that De Gregoria had admitted to him that he had thrown the weight which hit McDowell, but that he had thrown it at another newsboy and did not "mean to hit the cop."

McDowell said that while he was in the midst of the melee he was struck in the back of the head with a weight and brought to his knees. The policeman was not disabled by the blow, however. He was able to restore order, after which he went to the emergency hospital where he was treated for a scalp wound.

De Gregoria has only one leg. He has worked as a newsboy on the streets of Oakland for about eight years, and it is said that he was never in any trouble before.

Visit of Gen. Wood Puzzles Japanese

TOKYO, April 29.—(By The Associated Press.)—Passage of Major-General Leonard Wood through Japan on his way to the Philippines, in addition to evoking words of welcome from the press, has inspired speculation by the newspapers as to how far his mission is concerned with military matters. Some editorial writers are confident that it includes the study of colonial problems in the Pacific, with the probable effect that independence for the Philippines would have on the colonies of Great Britain, France and Holland.

THE APPAREL SHOP OF OAKLAND AND EASTBAY CITIES

Writers' Club Will Honor Markham

By EDNA B. KINARD.

Edward Markham, California poet, is coming back to Oakland. The local school principal whose fame was assured when he penned "The Man With the Hoe," is to find when he arrives from San Jose that his former friends still have memory of him. Markham has achieved a national recognition in the twenty years since he resigned from the Oakland school department. It will be as a writer as well as former educator that his advent will be hailed.

The California Writers' club is arranging a dinner for Monday night, affording its men and women who are striving for literary honors, an opportunity of meeting one who has "arrived." The function will be happily informal with the auditorium of the Young Woman's Christian Association as its setting. Charles Keeler, president, will preside as toastmaster.

Two hundred dollars makes up the scholarship fund which the College Woman's Club has accumulated to finance a student in the University of California. The scope of the department will be broadened during the next year. The scholarship section, Mrs. Deborah Calkins, chairman, held a meeting at the clubhouse this afternoon.

Mrs. Albert E. Carter, former president of the Woman's Legislative Council of California and Oakland Civic League, has accepted nomination for the executive office of Park Boulevard club, an interesting group of neighbors immediately east of Lake Merritt. Mrs. E. C. Robinson, also a past president of the local civic center, is called upon to support Mrs. Carter as first vice-president. The other candidates whose names fill in the regular ticket, are: Vice-presidents, Mrs. Robert Olcott, Mrs. Charles Taylor; secretary, Mrs. Paul Romie; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Hoyt.

Mrs. F. F. Porter, who has presided over the club's destinies, adding some 150 new names to the membership roll within a brief period, is retiring after a year of efficient service.

The annual meeting is scheduled for Monday. A program will follow later in the afternoon.

Poisoned by Thousands

(By L. W. Bower, M. D.)

Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in excess, over-working the sick kidneys, hence the congestion of blood causes backache in the same manner as a similar congestion in the head causes headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, and lack ambition to do things.

Simply ask your druggist for "Anuric" (anti-uric acid) Tablets if you aren't feeling up to the standard. If you have lumbago, rheumatism, dropsy, begin the treatment immediately.

The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested Anuric and you can send 10c there for trial package.

From the Red Bluff office of the weather bureau comes another late report telling of road conditions on the highway north of Red Bluff and extending across the state line into Oregon and finally terminating in Vancouver. In substance, the bulletin offers encouraging news to any one contemplating the trip to the Canadian border, and in detail it follows:

"There will be several days of fair and pleasant weather for auto traffic into and over the mountains of Northern California.

WEATHER AND ROAD CONDITIONS

"No rain or snow has fallen in Northern California, and very little in Oregon and Washington, consequently road conditions have been improving.

"For the benefit of through traffic northward the following road report is published:

"Road from Red Bluff to Portland, Ore., is in unusually good condition for this season and there is much traffic over this route.

"The following report of road conditions from Portland, Ore., to Seattle, Wash., was received this morning: Portland to Vancouver and Pioneer, 19 miles paved. Thence, excellent gravel macadam to Woodland, Kalama, Kelso, and Castle Rock, with some slightly rough places between Kelso and Castle Rock. Castle Rock to Toledo in fair condition, with the exception of one-half mile, which is rough. Toledo to Chehalis, Centralia, and Grand Mound, paved 50 miles, thence 8.6 miles good gravel to Tenino and two miles north. Paved from this point north to Olympia, Tacoma and Seattle. The general condition of the road is good, the worst place being just north of Castle Rock. There are no portions of the road impassable.

"Tourists may safely make this trip at present, although the conditions will be slightly improved as the weather becomes more settled. However, numerous paving contracts are being let along the Pacific Highway between Pioneer and Olympia which will necessitate detours, but these will be kept open and in good condition and well marked.

"With the opening of Snoqualmie Pass across the Cascades, east of Seattle, on May 1, all of the roads in this section will be open and in good condition."

WAWONA ROAD IS GOOD

Superintendent W. B. Lewis of Yosemite Park drove out over the Wawona road to Merced on Sunday, April 24, and advises that the road all the way is now in excellent condition and motorists need have no hesitancy in making the trip to the park via that route.

The road to the Mariposa Grove of Big Trees is also improving and motorists can now reach the log cabin at the grove without difficulty.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE

WATSONVILLE, April 9.—The last bad stretch of road between Watsonville and Santa Cruz is now being worked and long before the summer tourist travel gets heavy the road will have been paved. The contractor is now engaged in paving the five-mile stretch adjacent to Arana Gulch, five miles northwest of Santa Cruz. Pouring of concrete began today and it is expected that 300 feet a day will be laid. Thousands of tourists pass over this road every summer.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE AID ASKED

Wanted—Volunteers!

This is the first appeal of the Salvation Army campaign committee, directing the campaign for $30,000 in Oakland and Alameda county to be used to meet the deficit on the new rescue and maternity home now under construction in the Fruitvale district, at East Thirty-eighth street and Garden avenue.

All persons who will give an hour or so a day to the work are asked to report to Campaign Manager C. A. Farnsworth at 313 Henshaw building, Fourteenth and Broadway.

Meanwhile acceptances are coming in rapidly for places at the luncheon table, Hotel Oakland, Monday, May 2, where the campaign will be formally launched.

Sunday School Honors Its Superintendent

ALAMEDA, April 29. — Edward Albert scout commissioner of Alameda has been made superintendent emeritus of the Alameda Presbyterian Sunday school in recognition of his fifteen years as superintendent. He was succeeded as superintendent by William Culbert. William Murray, who has been assistant superintendent for more than 20 years, was re-elected to the same position. Lieutenant-Colonel Henry G. Mathewson was made second assistant.

American Prisoner in Russia Asks Aid

RIGA, April 29 (By the Associated Press).—Captain Emmet Kilpatrick, American Red Cross worker captured by the Bolsheviki in the Crimea last October, has sent an appeal to Washington to procure his lease from the prison camp in Russia.

The appeal was brought out of Russia by Captain M. C Cooper, the American Kosciuzko squadron officer who escaped from a Soviet prison and reached Riga a few days ago.

Captain Cooper reported Kilpatrick was in a nervous condition.

Rotarians Hold Banquet And Elect New Officers

Four hundred Rotarians and their wives gathered round the banquet board at the Hotel Oakland last night for the annual dinner and election of officers to which was added a Ladies' Night and an address on Americanism and Rotary ideals by Bishop Adna W. Leonard

The affair marked the passing of the regime of Max Horwinski, under whose presidency the club has grown and prospered, and the election of Carsten Schmidt of the Oakland market as his successor. Schmidt, until his election last night, was a director.

For the first time since the club's organization, the annual report of the president was submitted in a printed booklet instead of verbally. The innovation was started by President Horwinski with the aid of Clem Ady Gus Gerhard, Ray Kitchener, Ed Huebbe, Charles Monroe and Fred Webster.

"Oakland's Contribution to Rotary, 1920-21" is the title of this booklet. It reviews the record made by the Oakland club in setting an attendance record among Rotary clubs, the charitable work of the club which covered the installation of laundry equipment for the California Girls' Training Home in Alameda and equipment of a girls' sitting room in the West Oakland Home and the winning of the international prize by the Oakland bowling team

BY-LAWS AMENDED

The amendment to the constitution and by-laws that no member of Rotary may be a member of any other club organized along like lines or that no firm, a member of Rotary, may have a representative in other clubs, was adopted by a vote virtually unanimous The amendment will not be retroactive and will not affect those club members who are at present members of other clubs beside Rotary

In calling for the vote on this measure, President Horwinski said. "There has been some misunderstanding concerning the motives behind this amendment It is not a selfish attempt to limit the expansion of the co-operative idea embodied in the Rotary movement which is being so successfully applied by younger brother clubs of similar type In fact, it is the direct opposite, for we do this in order that Rotarians may not fill up the classifications in the other business clubs and perhaps really detract from the strength of the other clubs because of the first allegiance of these men to Rotary."

Unanimous approval of a resolution presented by Dr. William McCracken urging Rotarians to discharge their duty at the polls at the coming election and at all times was given

DIVING GIRL TALKS

Annette Kellerman, the diving star, was a guest of honor and delivered a short talk Several solo selections were rendered by Fred Anderson, who also led in community singing Lawrence Moore officiated in the introduction of the singers.

Not the least of the early entertainment features was the procession of defeated candidates at the municipal election just past to the tune of Chopin's Funeral March. Headed by V. O. Lawrence, the party included also I. H. Spiro and Floyd Gray. They bore a large banner with the words:

'Tis better to have RUN AND LOST
Then never to have run at all.

Bishop Leonard emphasized in his address the necessity for cementing strong ties of friendship between the two dominating nations of the Anglo-Saxon people — the United States and the British Empire.

"The United States today faces most grave problems if it would perpetuate for future generations the American ideals and traditions. First and foremost decisive action must be taken to stem the various radical movements whose aims and hopes are in direct contradiction to all that is finest in American life. Secondly steps must be taken to either limit immigration of foreign peoples or to more extensively conduct the Americanization work now being conducted," he said.

IMMIGRATION PROBLEM

"The United States cannot survive if it allows colonies of unassimilating peoples to form in its territory. Time has come when we can no longer allow just anybody to come here from anywhere unless he is ready to swear absolute allegiance to the American flag and institutions."

In conclusion, Bishop Leonard urged that the American and British nations strengthen their ties of friendship for the preservation of the supremacy of the white race over the "rising tide of color."

TRIBUNE JUVENILE SINGS

Bernice Claire Jahnigen, TRIBUNE juvenile, gave several song selection and a toe dance. Harry Cornell, manager of the Orpheum theater, sent over a team of comedians from the theater later in the evening to contribute to the program.

Major William McCaughey had charge of the main entertainment feature, which was a fashion show presented with ladies of the club as models, with hats from Taft & Pennoyer's and suits and dresses from the store of Edgar L Ormsby. The models included Mrs. Gene Young, Miss Lesoine Horwinski, Mrs. Harry Newman, Mrs John Millar, Miss Schleuter, Mrs Ray Kitchener, Miss Kitchener, Miss Dean, Mrs Harold Atkinson, Miss Henderson, Mrs Howard Swift, Mrs Gray, Mrs. W F D Brown, Mrs. Rodney Kenyon, Mrs F. W Laufer, Mrs Larson, Mrs. Block and Mrs. Fred E. Reed

In the absence of a model, Homer J Remis, sectmaster, substituted and wore "a Harding blue silk tricollette sport suit with tan angora trimmings and forisel cape to match."

A skit exemplifying the idea back of the "Mar-no-name" campaign of Group 12 of the Rotary Club was presented following the fashion show, by Larry Lund, Harold Austin, Tom Eaglesome and Fred Blanchard

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The balloting for directors resulted in the election of Harry Anderson on the first ballot. The second ballot filled three more places with William Mayhew, Harvey Lyon and Dr. William McCracken. The hour of midnight had arrived, so the balloting for the vice-president and the remaining vacancy on the board of directors was deferred until the regular weekly luncheon of the club next Tuesday.

On behalf of the club, Herman T Johnson, past president, presented Retiring President Max Horwinski with a mantel clock in recognition of his services as president of the club, and Thomas Eaglesome, one of the hold-over directors, bid the retiring members of the board farewell as directors

The banquet closed with violin selections by John Wharry Lewis of the American theater leading in the singing of popular songs, after which an hour of dancing was enjoyed to the music of Paul McCoy's college orchestra.

CHILDREN LEAVE CLASS TO WORK; LOSE PROMOTION

Alarmed at the number of children who are leaving school to pick vegetables and fruit, the superintendent of schools, in the weekly school bulletin, has urged that teachers try to dissuade parents from taking their children out for this purpose unless it be absolutely necessary.

"This," says the superintendent, "has become so serious that some action should be taken to prevent this wholesale leaving."

It is pointed out that the custom of leaving at this season means the retarding of many pupils in their school work and lack of the knowledge to gain promotion in time.

KAHN IS SEEKING BIGGER MAXIMUM FOR U. S. ARMY

Limit of 168,000 Should Be Increased to 175,000, He Contends.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Chairman Kahn of the military affairs committee told the House today that an enlisted force of 168,000 men, as fixed by the army appropriation bill, was too small and that at the proper time he would offer an amendment increasing the number to 175,000.

"I am not an alarmist, I am not afraid of war, but we all know that world conditions are unsettled," he declared. "And in the interest of true economy, in the interest of the welfare of the country I shall appeal to the membership of this house to support such an amendment."

ARMY RATIOS QUOTED

Declaring that Japan and China both had much larger armies than this country, the California representative said that in proportion to population only Colombia and Paraguay had smaller armies than the United States.

"Thousands of our follow citizens believe," said Kahn, "that this country by its action in the way of reducing its army can bring about international disarmament without any difficulty. Some months have elapsed since we reduced our orces. I have seen no indication anywhere that any other nation is making efforts to follow our footsteps.

"Therefore, I consider it the part of wisdom, at least, for the presetl to maintain a force the minimum of which will be 175,000 enlisted men.

INTERNATIONAL OUTLOOK

Answering the demand for reduction of the government expenditures, Kahn declared the Secretary of War could be trusted absolutely to cut expenses wherever possible without injury to the military establishment.

"It seems to be the facts are so palpable that no one at this time ought to want to cripple our military establishment," Kahn declared. "We have grave international questions which our State Department is trying to solve. We hope they will be solved with honor and credit to our government. During the pendency of these matters and in their solution, no individual can foretell what is going to happen. I, for one, believe we can afford to be prepared for any possible emergency, and I think the American people will approve the increase in our enlisted force."

EXPLOSION KILLS TEN

PAMPLONA, Spain, April 29.—Ten workers were killed and a dozen others badly burned by an accidental explosion last night in a cartridge factory.

HOW DID SHE DO IT?

"My dear, I had no idea that it could be done, until Katy actually showed me what she had bought. It seems that they have started something new, and it's merely a question of getting there early enough!"

"It sounds good to me and I wondered how Katy had ever managed to buy such an adorable outfit on her limited income. I never could."

"You certainly could if you do what she did. She went to Cherry's end-of-the-month sale of Women's Suits and Dresses (the women's store is at 515 13th street, the store for men at 528 13th street). They put broken lines on sale in a complete range of sizes, and I'll say they're real bargains. But, of course, one must get there early enough, because they go like hot cakes; and, best of all, you can buy even those things on credit. Anyone can afford to buy on that plan."—Advertisement.

San Francisco News

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—City Attorney George Lull is making an effort to have the speed limit of street cars in this city raised above the present limit of 12 miles an hour. The city has lost numerous damage suits through the fact that the old limit of 12 miles still obtains. He pointed out that an auto may be going at 50 miles an hour and if it collides with a street car going more than 12 miles per hour the street car company often is held responsible. Lull says further that present transportation conditions make it necessary for a car to go faster than the 12-mile-an-hour limit.

Hongkong Girl Weds Porterville Rancher

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—When the China Mail liner Nanking arrived with Marie Biriukova aboard she brought to Mrs. John M. Foy of 1728 Orchard street, Oakland a pleasant responsibility and to Lieutenant A. Dickinson, Porterville fruit rancher, a bride.

Mrs. Foy who but recently returned from the Far East, had promised the mother of Miss Biriukova that she would look out for the safety of the girl. Mrs. Foy was at the pier when the Nanking docked and accompanied Miss Biriukova and Lieutenant Dickinson, who was recently in the British navy, to a parsonage, where they were wed.

The new Mrs. Dickinson is the daughter of the construction engineer of the Ussuri railroad in Siberia. He is known to scores of American Army men who served with the Siberian expeditionary forces. The bride's mother and sister are residents of Hongkong. Another sister is employed at the British consulate in Vladivostok.

A. BURGESS OF ALAMEDA LEARNS DENTAL WONDERS

Bethlehem Shipyard Employee Praises Modern Methods of Dentistry

"There is scarcely a week passes when Mr. Burgess, of 1528 Sherman street, Alameda, does not send a patient or two to us for dental attention," says Dr. R. C. Anderson, prominent dentist with offices at 1225 Broadway.

"Mr. Burgess is one of our best boosters and praises our work because of its merits and because of the undisputable satisfaction he has enjoyed in having work done here," continues Dr. Anderson. "It has been our privilege to crown several of his teeth and make a lower plate for his mouth—all of which has met with his utmost approval. That is the secret why he recommends this office to all of his friends."

Dr. Anderson wants to make the acquaintance of people who suffer with neglected or diseased teeth. A record of experience of twenty-five years of good dentistry backs every statement Dr. Anderson makes, and has prompted the desire to employ only the highest standards and ethics in his work. Yet dentistry done the Dr. Anderson way is not expensive.

If you have bad teeth drop into my office and let me talk to you—let me tell you about my modern methods of dependable dentistry—the X-Ray Radeograph, and a hundred and one improved devices for the proper treatment of neglected teeth.—Advertisement.

Guests Call At Ralph W. Kinney Home

The debutante set were guests this afternoon at one of the smart affairs of the mid spring, when Miss Lorene Kinney entertained 250 of the younger maids and matrons from the Eastbay cities in honor of Mrs. George Reynolds O'Connor and Miss Elizabeth Maltby, betrothed of E. Walter Hedges. Miss Kinney was hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Kinney, in Piedmont. Assisting her were a group of the younger girls, including the Misses Marion Kergan, Margaret Howard, Eleanor Propse of Colusa, Harriet Ryder, Vera Bernhard, Dorothy Potter, Don Rodolph, Camellia Heseltine, Marian Dallam, Isabel Ayer, Georgia Towle, Anita Avila and Sally Robbins.

Another pretty affair of today was the luncheon and bridge at which Mrs. Bert S. Hubbard presided as hostess, at her home in Santa Rosa avenue, for intimate friends.

Forty guests shared the hospitality of Miss Hatherly Brittain this afternoon at her home in Piedmont, the guest of honor being Miss Virginia Smith, a June bride-elect.

CARDS RECEIVED FOR DANCE

Invitations have been received by about 100 of the dancing set for Friday evening, May 13, from the Misses Betty Greene, Esther Morley and John Morley. The dance will be held in the ballroom of the new Claremont home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. E. Greene.

Cards for a large tea have been received from Mrs. Fletcher Brandon Taylor of San Francisco, who will have as her guests of honor Mrs. Carl Hoag, Mrs. Reed Robison, Miss Doris Alexander and Miss Roberta Holmes, brides-elect. ✡ ✡ ✡

WEDDING IN ST. PAUL'S

St. Paul's Episcopal church will be the setting at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for the marriage of Miss Caryl M. George, daughter of Mrs. William Henry George of this city, and Charles Thomas Pracy of San Francisco.

Miss George is a graduate of Miss Ransom's school and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Whitehead, at whose home a wedding breakfast will be served following the church service. Only the immediate family of the couple will be present owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family. Rev. Alexander Allen, rector of St. Paul's, will officiate.

Miss Margaret Alderson has bidden a number of friends for luncheon May 6 to meet Mrs. Frank Blocklinger of Iowa. Miss Alderson will preside at her home in Claremont and bridge will be the diversion of the later hours.

Miss Alderson, who will wed Charles Gordon Twohy June 29, will herself be a guest of honor tomorrow when Mrs. C. C. Trowbridge will give a luncheon, and on May 11 Mrs. Peter Tum Suden of San Francisco will give a tea for 150 guests.

PROGRAM AT Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Joseph Newton Borroughs, assisted by Flora Rouleau, pianist, and Hortense McKee, soprano, will give a reception and program of vocal and instrumental music and dancing in the Little Theater in the Young Women's Christian Association tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The dances are aesthetic and interpretive.

Mrs. Raymond C. Smith and her sister, Miss Doris Collins, gave a luncheon a few days ago in honor of their mother's birthday anniversary. A group of close friends of years standing were present and the table appointments were in varied spring flowers.

Mrs. A. A. Rowland of Ranleigh way, Piedmont, entertained yesterday at three tables of bridge, one of the informal afternoons with which the week has been dotted.

BETROTHAL IS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Cook of the Peralta apartments announce the engagement of their daughter Virginia to Charles Eric Whitamore of England. Miss Cook is a graduate of the University of California and a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Beta Kappa sororities. She has just returned from a trip around the world with her mother and sisters. They met Whitamore in China, where he is in the British Consular Service, and has just returned to England for a two-years leave of absence. The marriage will take place in England in October. They will reside in England for a year and then return to China, where they will be members of the diplomatic circle in the Orient.

Miss Marian Winchester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Winchester of this city, entertained 200 of her school friends at a dancing party last evening at the Glenview Clubhouse. The affair was in honor of the hostess' graduation from Technical High School this semester. Miss Bernice Williams of San Francisco assisted the young hostess.

Miss Leonore Pfister will be hostess at a bridge tea for Miss Dallam May 6, entertaining at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pfister in Berkeley.

Cards are out for a bridge tea which Miss Margaret Noble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Noble of the Lakeshore district, will give at her home May 11 with Miss Marian Dallam as the honor guest. Forty invitations have been extended.

Mrs. Frank Harris will entertain the Northern California Association of Mount Holyoke Alumnae tomorrow afternoon (Saturday) at her home, 217 Hillcrest Road, Berkeley, the guest of the association for the occasion being Mrs. Sidney W. Clark, '81, former alumna trustee of the college.

S. F. THUGS HIRE CAR, ROB DRIVER, THROW HIM OUT

Bandit Gang Quit Passenger Role When Auto Reaches Lonely Spot.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Slugged by bandits who, after firing a shot at him, beat him over the head with their guns, Louis Sydelman, a chauffeur of 718 Page street, was robbed of $100 and thrown from his machine at an early hour this morning. The robbers then sped off in his car, leaving him dazed and helpless by the roadway in a lonely section of the city.

Sydelman has a stand at Union Square. Shortly after 5 o'clock two men, about 30 years old, hired him to take them to Hunters' Point. They sat on the back seat and he drove out Third street. After they had turned off the main highway and were proceeding down towards the drydock, at Evans avenue and Ingalls street, Sydelman heard a shot and felt a bullet pass his head. He stopped the car, and as he did so his two passengers reached forward with guns in their hands and struck him over the head. Dazed but not unconscious, he was pulled back into the tonneau while one of the bandits took his place at the wheel.

The car was driven a short distance while the second robber went through his pockets, taking all his money. They then pitched him to the roadway, jumped into the car and turned it towards Third street once more.

Sydelman recovered his senses after a few moments.

Henry Ford was bequeathed a rustic writing table from Woodchuck Lodge in the Catskills.

Mrs. Cameron passed away yesterday at her home, 1616 Delaware street. She was a native of Scotland and 76 years of age. For sixty-nine years Mrs. Cameron had resided in California, her father being one of the pioneer mining men of the State. Her home had been in Berkeley for twenty-eight years.

Two sons and two daughters survive. They are William and L. R. Condon of Perth, Scotland, and Mary E. and Christina R. Cameron.

Six Real Leaders of I. W. Are Missing

CHICAGO, April 29. — The real leaders in the group of the Industrial Workers of the World convicted for anti-government war-time conspiracies jumped their bond and are believed to be furthering revolutionary ideas, Federal officials said today after a final check-up of the 47 men who were to report to the Leavenworth, Kan., penitentiary following refusal of the United States Supreme court to review their cases.

Nine convicted men are at liberty, the others either having reached the penitentiary or are on their way, it was said.

Of the nine who are free, six are looked on as chief instigators of the anti-war activities. Three of these six under 20-year sentences are believed to be holding "cabinet" positions in the Russian Soviet government.

"Big Bill" Haywood is authoritatively reported to be minister of propaganda for the Soviet government. Officials have virtually lost hope that Haywood will return to this country.

Vladimir Lossief is in Petrograd, according to information here, and has been appointed commissioner of immigration.

WEALTHY RADICAL FREE

BERLIN, April 29.—The report from Paris that John de Kay, millionaire Socialist, has been arrested at Budapest, is untrue. De Kay was found today in a Berlin suburb, where he says he has been living since December.

PUBLISHERS RE-ELECTED

Students' Work Shown At School Festival of Arts

ELAINE STILLING, "Dutch girl," in pageant at Lockwood School.

Selection of Best Specimens of Members of Lockwood Classes Is Made.

A festival of arts was held in Lockwood school yesterday. The exhibition of classroom work was preliminary to the May festival which will be held in the Municipal Auditorium under the Oakland school department for three days, beginning Monday. Selection was made of the best specimens of the arts and crafts to be entered as Lockwood's contribution to the collection which is designed to "show the public schools at work."

Fire prevention was featured yesterday, with a demonstration of methods in an improvised forest set on the stage of the auditorium. Booths erected about the assembly room showed the native arts of the foreign-born women of the community. Millinery, dressmaking, designing and mechanical drawing classes presented interesting displays of their work.

Girls in the costumes of the nations assisted in the many concessions.

Rich Sullivan Estate Goes to Heirs Here

Following a ruling by New York courts that the will purported to have been left by her husband is a forgery, Mrs J. Sullivan, 428 Juana avenue, and her three sons are expected to share the estate of the late Cornelius J. Sullivan of New York, cousin and partner of "Big Tim" Sullivan. Sullivan died two years ago at the home of Mrs Isabel Gordon in New York. He was separated from his wife, who filed suit for divorce, but a decree had not been granted when he died. A will offered for probate by Mrs Gordon named her as the principal legatee. The will cut off each of Sullivan's three sons with $1.

Notice of contest was filed by Mrs. Sullivan and yesterday she was advised by her attorneys in New York that the will had been withdrawn from probate. The estate is about $500,000, according to Mrs Sullivan. As Sullivan's widow she will receive one-third and the remaining two-thirds will be divided among the sons.

Blueroom Luncheon Plans Are Complete

Arrangements were completed today for the big get-together luncheon in the blueroom at the Hotel Oakland Monday, arranged by the Salvation Army campaign committee.

The dinner formally launches the appeal for $30,000 needed to complete the new rescue and maternity home now under construction at East Thirty-eighth street and Garden avenue.

For thirty years the Salvation Army has maintained a rescue and maternity home in Oakland. During that time it has aided hundreds of betrayed girls who found no other haven open to them in their hour of disappointment and sorrow.

And now the Salvation Army is asking Alameda county and Oakland to help other betrayed girls and prospective mothers in completing the new refuge.

C. A. Farnsworth, campaign manager, says 100 prominent Eastbay men and women will attend the luncheon Monday.

OLD VET'S PERSISTENCE WAS AT LAST REWARDED

Los Angeles Man Is Glad Now He Gave Tanlac a Fair Trial He Says As It Completely Overcame His Troubles.

"I have had such a satisfactory experience with Tanlac I want to tell people about it, and especially my old comrades who need just such a medicine," said W W Bryant, a civil war veteran and prominent member and former officer of the G A R. Mr. Bryant lives at 3124 East Third St., Los Angeles. He said further.

"About three years ago the circulation of my blood got so poor my feet were numb and as cold as ice all the time. I would hold them to the fire until they would almost scorch and still they would be cold. At night the trouble would spread to my back, and I couldn't get warm. I was also troubled with catarrh, and my throat, especially at night, would fill with mucus.

"Tanlac at first did not seem to reach my case, but lucky for me I had decided to give it a fair trial, and my persistence was rewarded. After taking it for awhile a wonderful change took place in my condition. The circulation of my blood got normal, and I had no more trouble with my feet. I also got rid of the catarrh, and actually gained seven pounds in weight.

"I was in fine shape for three years, but recently the catarrh began to bother me so I went back to Tanlac, with the same good result as before. I feel better in every way, even my stomach, which had been weak since the civil war, is much better since taking Tanlac. It is certainly a thoroughly good medicine and I feel it is my duty to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland by The Owl Drug Co and leading druggists —Advertisement.

NANA BRYANT COMING BACK!

NANA BRYANT

She is returning after a year of brilliant success in the east and in New York.

That is royal news!

She opens a limited season at the Fulton Playhouse next Sunday. With her will be the favorite light comedian and Juvenile—Cliff Thompson!

The play will be "Smilin' Through!"

The combination is irresistible!

The crowds will be very great!

The demand for seats is already large!

Our friends are sincerely warned not to delay.

The play MAY run two weeks, but that is not settled. Your seats therefore should be ordered now.

We know that the house will be sold out at every performance. It is therefore simple courtesy to our friends to suggest that they avoid disappointment and arrange for seats quickly.

Jane Cowl has specially approved of Nana Bryant as her successor on the Pacific Coast in "Smilin' Through."

The Fulton Theater's scenic production of "Smilin' Through" will be worthy of Jane Cowl's masterpiece in every way. It will be superb.

Nana Bryant's welcome, of course, will be tremendous next Sunday.

Standing room will be at a premium.

No greater favorite than Miss Bryant ever was taken to Oakland's arms.

She has been called "Oakland's Sweetheart."

The term is correct, the city idolizes her.

Cliff Thompson's fine, jolly personality will win for him in an ovation second only to Nana Bryant.

Altogether it will be a day of days in the theater history of this city.

Paul Harvey and all the superbly clever Fulton players will be in evidence in the play.

The star—the company—the play—all are worthy.

Oakland will do the rest!

Mills Students Hear New York Educator

"Brilliancy is no credit to one these days, nor is it anything of which to be proud," said Dr. Wallace Buttrick, president of the General Education Board of New York, in addressing the students and faculty of Mills College at their assembly hour today.

"Work, hard work, and application produce the capacity for sustained interest so essential to power today. A remarkably large per cent of men and women who have stood high in collegiate studies fail to function well when they get out of college. Why? Because they do not have to work hard for what they get. The student young woman who gets on in the world is the one who does her best, and if she fails she loses her capacity for sustained interest."

Dr. Buttrick cited Edison and his application to work, his absorption in it, and defined brilliance as the genius of sustained attention. He asserted that even initiative finds its roots and its very life is sustained attention. The speaker emphasized the imperative need today, as never before, for trained minds and well-prepared students.

"I have little interest in educational institutions as such, but I have a great interest in the young people for whom colleges are established," said the speaker.

The speaker was introduced by President Aurelia Henry Reinhardt.

Suit of Woman in Fair Estate Filed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Suit has been filed in the Superior Court here by Mrs. Mary J. Lundy of Alameda, who seeks one thirty-sixth of the property held by the heirs of former United States Senator James G. Fair. She seeks this portion as administratrix of the estate of her sister. Fair died in 1894. His estate is estimated at $22,500,000.

Mrs. Lundy's suit is based on charges similar to those made two years ago in the suit of Lieutenant Wesley E. Crouters, namely that the trust clause in the Fair will was broken through bribing Supreme Judge Frederick W. Henshaw. The amount involved in the alleged bribe is $410,000.

BROKER'S OFFICE REVEALS SOCIAL BOOZE DRINKING

Oil Man, Indignant At Raid, Says 'Somebody Has Broken An Agreement."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29.—Descending suddenly upon the quiet of an attractively fitted office of Ad Gunzendorfer, oil broker, in the Russ building, Captain Arthur Lane of the central station and Prohibition Officer George Poultney found a dozen businessmen, brokers and attaches of nearby banking concerns quietly quaffing cocktails. Amid such pleasant surroundings and with a directors' table for the bar, the officers almost thought they had made a mistake until they saw the glasses and managed to confiscate a pint of whisky.

"AGREEMENT BROKEN."

According to Captain Lane, Gunzendorfer expressed chagrin, surprise and indignation.

"Are you doing this on an order from Brady?" he is said to have asked. "You'll hear from this in the morning. Someone has broken an agreement here."

Neither Lane or Poultney ventured a reply and Gunzendorfer was taken into custody charged with violating the prohibition laws. When the matter came up before U. S. Commissioner Krull today Walter Trefts was on hand, representing the district attorney, but the matter could not be heard until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

BRADY MAKES STATEMENT.

District Attorney Mathew Brady declared that he had never heard of Gunzendorfer and didn't know anything about the raid of the officers.

"I was not doing anything wrong," was Gunzendorfer's explanation. "I was in my office with a few of my friends. The whisky was my own and I was just treating a chance visitor."

According to Captain Layne, the whisky was in a bottle from a drugstore at Polk and Bush streets. He said the druggist had told him that the contents of the bottle was not the whisky bought on a doctor's prescription last year but was an imitation and he believed that it was jackass brandy.

Speaker Discusses Japanese Question

BERKELEY, April 29.—Defense of the Japanese as probably the "least troublesome" of all immigrants and praise for their ability to simulate American ways, was voiced yesterday before the Berkeley Center of the California Civic League meeting in Unity hall, by J. Justin Miller, state commissioner of immigration and housing.

That San Francisco has become the second largest port of entry in the United States and California in third or fourth place in the number of immigrants, was told by Miller in citing the big work confronting the state in caring for these foreigners. The problem of housing he declared was the greatest confronting the commission. "Give these people good homes and good environment and you'll have law-abiding, contented citizens," he said. "Give them the opposite and you'll have I. W. W. agitation in your midst."

A nominating committee to submit a report to the center at the next meeting was elected as follows: Miss Martha Ijans, Mrs. C. C. Hall, Mrs. B. Winter, Mrs. F. H. Damon, Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. O. L. Edgecomb and Mrs. C. C. Haynes.

High Court Upholds Townley Connection

ST. PAUL, April 29. — The state supreme court today upheld the Jackson county court in the conviction of A. C. Townley, president, and Joseph Gilbert, former organizer of the National Non-Partisan League. They were charged with conspiracy to discourage enlistments during the war, found guilty and sentenced to serve ninety days each in the county jail. The case was appealed. Meantime, Gilbert was convicted of another charge in Goodhue county and is now serving a sentence in the Red Wing jail.

AIR RESERVE IS PLAN OF FLIERS

BERKELEY, April 29. — Formation of an air service reserve organization, with the Allied Fliers' Club as a basis, to include airplanes, balloons and a photographic section, is expected as a result of a meeting in Stiles hall last night.

At the outset the equipment of the proposed field will be on Crissey Field, Presidio of San Francisco. Later, as the units become better organized, it is hoped to obtain equipment at airdomes closer to home cities of each unit.

All ex-service men, enlisted men and officers, who have had experience in the Air Service, and who would join a reserve unit should communicate with H. M. Pugh, secretary of the Allied Fliers, Berkeley Bank building, Berkeley, it was announced.

The proposed reserve organization is to include one group headquarters, lighter than air; one wing squadron, heavier than air; one headquarters squadron and one photographic section. It is expected that these units will be obtained in Oakland and Berkeley, and nearby points.

Professor S. S. Maxwell of the University of California last night addressed the fliers on experiments he has conducted to determine the physiological effect of flying.

The club listened to plans for developing Government island, in the estuary, for avintion purposes.

Capt. Woodside Dies Suddenly On Train

EL PASO, Tex., April 29.—Captain Alexander Woodside of San Francisco died last night in a drawing room on the westbound Sunset Limited, 15 minutes before the train reached El Paso.

Captain Woodside was in apparent good health until the train reached a point 150 miles east of El Paso, when he was suddenly stricken. Word of his illness was telegraphed here and orders were given to increase the speed of the train. Physicians were waiting when the train reached here and pronounced death due to acute dilation of the heart. Captain Woodside was en route to San Francisco from New Orleans, where he landed a few days since from Panama, where he had been inspecting Pacific Mail Steamship Company properties. He was traveling alone.

What America Did and Failed to Do at Paris

by ROBERT LANSING
FORMER SECRETARY of STATE

(Copyright, 1921, by Houghton Mifflin Company, as "The Peace Negotiations; a Personal Narrative." Published by special arrangement with Houghton Mifflin Co.)

Robert Lansing tells today how President Wilson, rushing to get away from Paris and return to the United States in February, 1919, tried in eleven days to frame what was intended to be the greatest international compact that ever had been written—a world charter. In his eagerness to "make the world safe for democracy" Wilson is charged by Lansing with having abandoned international democracy in favor of international autocracy.

CHAPTER XIV

A World Charter in Eleven Days.

During the ten days preceding February 14, when the commission on the League of Nations held daily sessions, the President had no conferences with the American commissioners except, of cpurse, with Colonel House, his American colleague on the commission on the league. On the morning of the 14th, however, he called a meeting of the commissioners and delivered to them the printed report which was to be presented that afternoon to the plenary session. As the meetings of the commission on the League of Nations had been secret, the American commissioners, other than Colonel House, were almost entirely ignorant of the proceedings and of the progress being made.

Colonel House's office staff knew far more about it than did Mr. White, General Bliss and I. When the President delivered the report to the commissioners they were, therefore, in no position to express an opinion concerning it. The only remarks were expressions of congratulation that he had been able to complete the work before his departure. They were merely complimentary. As to the merits of the document nothing was or could be said by the three commissioners, since no opportunity had been given them to study it and without a critical examination any comment concerning its provisions would have been worthless. I felt and I presume that my two colleagues, who had not been consulted as to the work of the commission on the league, felt, that it was, in any event, too late to offer suggestions or make criticisms. The report was in print; it was that afternoon to be laid before the conference; in twelve hours the President would be on his way to the United States. Clearly it would have been useless to find fault with the report, especially if the objections related to the fundamental ideas of the organization which it was intended to create.

BOUND TO ACQUIESCE, DESPITE OPINIONS.

The President having in the report declared the American policy, his commissioned representatives were bound to acquiesce in his decision, whatever their personal views were. Acquiesce or resignation was the choice, and resignation would have undoubtedly caused an unfortunate, if not critical, situation. In the circumstances acquiescence seemed the only practical and proper course.

The fact that in ten meetings and in a week and a half a commission composed of fifteen members, ten of whom represented the five great powers and five of whom represented the lesser powers (to which were later added four others), completed the drafting of a detailed plan of a League of Nations, is sufficient in itself to raise doubts as to the thoroughness with which the work was done and as to the care with which the various plans and numerous provisions proposed were studied, compared and discussed. It gives the impression that many clauses were accepted under the pressing necessity of ending the commission's labors within a fixed time. The document itself bears evidence of the haste with which it was prepared, and is almost conclusive proof in itself that it was adopted through personal influence rather than through belief in the wisdom of all its provisions.

The covenant of the League of Nations was intended to be the greatest international compact that had ever been written. It was to be the Maxima Charta of mankind, securing to the nations their rights and liberties and uniting them for the preservation of universal peace. To harmonize the conflicting views of the members of the commission—and it was well known that they were conflicting—and to produce in eleven days a world charter, which would contain the elements of greatness or even of perpetuity, was, on the face of it, an undertaking impossible of accomplishment. The document which was produced sufficiently establishes the truth of this assertion.

It required a dominant personality on the commission to force through a detailed plan of a league in so short a time. President Wilson was such a personality. By adopting the scheme of an oligarchy of the great powers he silenced the dangerous opposition of the French and British members of the commission, who willingly passed over the minor defects in the plan, provided this concert of powers, this quintuple alliance, was incorporated in the covenant. And for the same reason it may be assumed the Japanese and Italians found the President's plan acceptable. Mr. Wilson won a great personal triumph, but he did so by surrendering the fundamental principle of the equality of nations. In his eagerness to "make the world safe for democracy" he abandoned international democracy and became the advocate of international autocracy.

It is not my purpose to analyze the provisions of the covenant which was submitted to the conference on the preliminaries of peace on February 14, 1919. My objections to it have been sufficiently discussed in the preceding pages. It would be superfluous to repeat them. The innumerable published articles and the endless debates on the covenant have brought out its good features as well as its defects. Unfortunately for the opponents and defenders of the document alike, some of the objections urged have been flagrantly unjustifiable and based on false premises and misstatements of fact and of law, which seem to show political motives and not infrequently personal animosity toward Mr. Wilson. The exaggerated statements and unfair arguments of some of the Senators, larded, as they often were, with caustic sarcasm and vindictive personalities, did much to prevent an honest and useful discussion of the merits and demerits of the covenant.

CAMPAIGN SERVED TO AROUSE WILSON.

The effect upon President Wilson of this campaign against him personally—and it seems to me it would have had the same effect upon any man of spirit—was to arouse his indignation. Possibly a less stubborn man would not have assumed so uncompromising an attitude as he did or have permitted his ire to find expression in threats, but it cannot be denied that there was provocation for the resentment which he exhibited. The President has been blamed for not having sought more constantly to placate the opponents of the covenant and to meet them on a common ground of compromise, especially during his visit to the United States in February, 1919. From the point of view of policy there is justice in blaming him, but, when one considers the personal animus shown and the insolent tone assumed by some of his critics, his conduct was very human; not wise, but human. Mr. Wilson had never shown a spirit of conciliation in dealing with those who opposed him.

Even in the case of a purely political question he appeared to consider opposition to be a personal affront and he was disposed to retaliate in a personal way. In a measure this explains the personal enmity of many of his political foes. I do not think that it is unjust to say that President Wilson was stronger in his hatreds than in his friendships. He seemed to lack the ability to forgive one who had in any way offended him or opposed him.

Believing that much of the criticism of the covenant was in reality criticism of him as its author, a belief that was justified, the President made it a personal matter. He threatened, in a public address delivered in the New York Opera House on the eve of his departure for France to force the Republican majority to accept the covenant by interweaving the League of Nations into the terms of peace to such an extent that they could not be separated, so that, if they rejected the league, they would be responsible for defeating the treaty and preventing a restoration of peace.

SENATORS DETERMINED TO DEFEAT WILSON.

With the general demand for peace this seemed no empty threat, although the propriety of making it may be questioned. It had, however, exactly the opposite effect from that which the President intended. Its utterance proved to be as unwise as it was ineffective. The opposition Senators resented the idea of being coerced. They became more than ever determined to defeat a President whom they charged with attempting to disregard and nullify the right of the Senate to exercise independently its constitutional share in the treaty-making power. Thus at the very outset of the struggle between the President and the Senate a feeling of hostility was engendered which continued with increasing bitterness on both sides and prevented any compromise or concession in regard to the covenant as it finally appeared in the treaty of Versailles.

When President Wilson returned to Paris after the adjournment of the Sixty-fifth Congress on March 4, 1919, he left behind him opponents who were stronger and more confident than they were when he landed ten days before. While his appeal to public opinion in favor of the League of Nations had been to an extent successful, there was a general feeling that the covenant as then drafted required amendment so that the sovereign rights and the traditional policies of the United States should be safeguarded. Until the document was amended it seemed that the opposition had the better of the argument with the people. Furthermore, when the new Congress met, the Republicans would have a majority in the Senate, which was of special importance in the matter of the treaty which would contain the covenant, because it would, when sent to the Senate, be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations to report on its ratification and a majority of that committee, under a Republican organization, would presumably be hostile to the plan for a league advocated by the President.

The committee could hinder and possibly prevent the acceptance of the covenant, while it would have the opportunity to place the opposition's case in a favorable light before the American people and to attack the President's conduct of the negotiations at Paris.

I believe that the President realized the loss of strategic position which he had sustained by the Democratic defeat at the polls in November, 1918, but was persuaded that, by making certain alterations in the covenant suggested by Republicans favorable to the formation of a league, and especially those advocating a League of Enforce Peace, he would be able to win sufficient support in the Senate and from the people to deprive his antagonists of the advantage which they had gained by the elections. This he sought to do on his return to Paris about the middle of March. If the same spirit of compromise had been shown while he was in America it would doubtless have gone far to weaken hostility to the covenant. Unfortunately for his purpose, he assumed a contrary attitude, and in consequence the sentiment against the league was crystallized and less responsive to the concessions which the President appeared willing to make when the commission on the League of Nations resumed its sittings, especially as the obnoxious Article 10 remained intact.

In the formulation of the amendments to the covenant, which were incorporated in it after the President's return from the United States and before its final adoption by the conference, I had no part and I have no reason to think that Mr. White or General Bliss shared in the work. As these amendments or modifications did not affect the theory of organization or the fundamental principles of the league, they in no way changed my views or lessened the differences between the President's judgment and mine. Our differences were as to the bases and not as to the details of the covenant. Since there was no disposition to change the former, we were no nearer an agreement than we were in January.

VISIT DISAPPOINTING TO FRIENDS OF LEAGUE.

The President's visit to the United States had been disappointing to the friends of a league in that he had failed to rally to the support of the covenant so overwhelming a popular sentiment in its favor that the opposition in the Senate could not resist it. The natural reaction was that the peoples of Europe and their statesmen lost a measure of their enthusiasm and faith in the project. Except in the case of a few idealists, there was a growing disposition to view it from the purely practical point of view and to speculate on its efficacy as an instrument to interpret and carry out the international will. Among the leaders of political thought in the principal Allied countries, the reports of the President's reception in the United States were sufficiently conflicting to arouse doubt as to whether the American people were actually behind him in his plan for a league, and this doubt was not diminished by his proposed changes in the covenant, which indicated that he was not in full control of the situation at home.

Two weeks after the President had resumed his duties as a negotiator and had begun the work of revising the covenant, I made a memorandum of my views as to the situation that then existed. The memorandum is as follows:

"March 25, 1919.

"With the increasing military preparations and operations throughout Eastern Europe and the evident purpose of all these quarreling nations to ignore any idea of disarmament and to rely upon force to obtain and retain territory and rights, the League of Nations is being discussed with something like contempt by the cynical, hard-headed statesmen of those countries which are being put on a war footing. They are cautious and courteous out of regard for the President. I doubt if the truth reaches him, but it comes to me from various sources.

"These men say that in theory the idea is all right and is an ideal to work toward, but that under present conditions it is not practical in preventing war. They ask, what nation is going to rely on the guaranty in the covenant if a jealous or hostile neighbor maintains a large army. They want to know whether it would be wise or not to disarm under such conditions. Of course, the answers are obvious. But, if the guaranty is not sufficient, or accepted as sufficient, protection, what becomes of the central purpose of the league and the chief reason for creating it?

"I believe that the President and Colonel House see this, though they do not admit it, and that to save the league from being cast into the discard they will attempt to make of it a sort of international agency to do certain things which would normally be done by independent international commissions. Such a course would save the league from being still-born and would so interweave it with the terms of peace that to eliminate it would be to open up some difficult questions.

"Of course, the League of Nations as originally planned had one supreme object and that was to prevent future wars. That was substantially all that it proposed to do. Since then new functions have been gradually added until the chief argument for the league's existence has been almost lost to sight. The league has been made a convenient 'catch-all' for all sorts of international actions. At first this was undoubtedly done to give the league something to do, and now it is being done to save it from extinction or from being ignored.

"I am not denying that a common international agent may not be a good thing. In fact, the plan has decided merit. But the organization of the league does not seem to me suitable to perform efficiently and properly these new functions.

SPONSORS MADE LEAGUE NECESSARY TO TREATY.

"However, giving this character to the league may save it from being merely an agreeable dream. As the repository of international controversies requiring long and careful consideration it may live and be useful.

"My impression is that the principal sponsors for the league are searching through the numerous disputes which are clogging the wheels of the conference, seizing upon every one which can possible be referred and heaping them on the League of Nations to give it standing as a useful and necessary adjunct to the treaty.

"At least that is an interesting view of what is taking place and opens a wide field for speculation as to the future of the league and the verdict which history will render as to its origin, its nature and its real value."

I quote this memorandum because it gives my thoughts at the time concerning the process of weaving the league into the terms of peace as the President had threatened to do. I thought then that it had a double purpose, to give a practical reason for the existence of the league and to make certain the ratification of the covenant by the Senate. No fact has since developed which has induced me to change my opinion.

(In his next installment Lansing deals with the system of mandates—a system which is just now the subject of a series of rather sharp exchanges between Washington, London, Paris and Tokyo.)

EDWARDS ASKS AMENDMENTS TO NEW TRAFFIC ACT

The Proposed Changes Would Make Further Restrictions On Auto Parking.

Drastic amendments to the present traffic ordinance were suggested to the city council today by Commissioner Edwards of the street department after four months of the present ordinance, which was effective January 1 —

Edwards would clear Broadway of all vehicles from 4 to 6 p. m Everything would disappear from the street between these hours, except those in motion. There would be no parking. The recommendations are:

1.—That the parking limit time be made uniform in every district, namely thirty minutes.

2.—That parking on Broadway between Twenty-first and Twenty-sixth streets be limited to thirty minutes between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m. This would make a new zone affected by the parking ordinance.

3 —That all parking be prohibited on Broadway between Tenth and Sixteenth streets from 4 to 6 p. m also that all parking on Washington street from Tenth to Fourteenth streets be prohibited for the same hours. The parking limit on these streets would be extended till 10 p. m., with a thirty-minute limit

4.—That all-night parking be prohibited on any city streets.

Edwards asserts that the proposed rules have resulted from numerous complaints about traffic congestion, and says that the traffic department and chief of police concur with the recommendations He asked the city attorney to draw up the proper amendments to the traffic ordinance so that these matters be included

Commissioner Edwards told the city council that the regulation of upper Broadway is necessary because citizens park their cars all day in that vicinity and then go to San Francisco via the Key Route, leaving a mass of cars near the Key Route station along Broadway.

"The variance in the time-limits of parking on streets has caused confusion," he said, "and a uniform thirty-minute limit should be observed for the whole city."

The city attorney was requested to make up an amended ordinance, which will then be discussed in council.

Company E, Cadets Will Hold Dansant

Company E. League of the Cross Cadets, has completed arrangements for a dansant to be held in Maple Hall tonight. At this dansant the Rev. Father John J. Hunt's Individual Drill Trophy will be contested for by the picked members of the regiment. There will be nine companies from San Francisco and Oakland represented. The members of Company E are anxious to bring this medal to Oakland as they have won nearly every other medal put up for an individual drill in the last two years for members of the League of the Cross Cadets. Colonel Frank Grimley will give the commands and Lieutenant Colonel H. J. Leonard, Majors James Smith and Harry Spring, will be the judges.

The committee in charge consists of Sergeants Ed Hayes, chairman, J. J. Power, J. T. Nolan, Privates Walter Mazziotto, Leo Roach, Andrew Cortez, J. L. Adams, William Kennedy.

The council referred the petition to the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways for a repuly and for possible agreement between the company and the East Oaklanders.

S.R.O. Sign Hung Out at Hill and Valley Affair

Entertainment for Benefit of Health Center Draws Big Crowd.

HAYWARD, April 29 —"Standing room only" greeted the late comers at the Hill and Valley Club Health Center benefit held in the Native Sons' hall here last evening. Every available seat was occupied and the benches along the sides of the hall filled to overflowing many minutes before the opening number by the grammar school band. No estimate could be made of the amount that will be cleared for the Health Center work but it was stated that there would be sufficient funds from this entertainment to start work at once on the new quarters of the department in the basement of the library.

Every number on the long program lived up to the highest expectations of any present From the first to the last it was carried forward without a single hitch. Following the grammar school band, the glee club of the Hayward Union high school rendered two delightful selections and then the curtain rose promptly on the main feature of the evening, the musical playlet staged by Mrs T. L Kelly and her troupe of juvenile actors and actresses, "The Health Fairies" A spontaneous outburst of applause marked the rise of the curtain.

Nothing that has ever been said or sung regarding "Health Fairies" has come anywhere near equaling the reality depicted last night. How anyone could be sick with such a lovely group about them is beyond imagination. Baby Eleanor Eschenauer couldn't and her tuneful tale of the "May showers" bringing "May flowers" took the house by storm.

Two more selections by the glee club divided the program in half, the second part including the dancers, pupils of Miss Marie Zabala, and concluding with a number by the school band and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," by players and audience.

DYING CHICKENS TEMPER COURT'S EJECTION RULING

"My chickens are all dying. Don't send me away from home!"

Because John E Powell's favorite rooster died from neglect and his other fowls are weakening, Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure today refused the application of Mrs. Bertha E. Powell for an order driving the husband from their home.

Mrs. Powell asked that the judge kick her husband out of their Albany home, declaring that he continued his alleged "cruel and abusive" conduct toward her.

Powell's defense was that when he left the house his 'chickens were allowed to die. The judge told him to leave the house as soon as he had arranged for the care of the fowl, but did not grant the restraining order preventing him from going to his house.

The building is situated on the banks of San Antonio creek, below this city, and was used for dances and social gatherings. It is said that some friction has been of late engendered among rival factions in the neighborhood, which resulted in this attempt at vandalism.

Court Asked to Hold Up the Isleton Club's Efforts to Celebrate.

FAIRFIELD, Solano Co., April 29.—The dispute between Joseph Marks and others of the Rio Vista and Isleton Social club and Mrs. Mary Joseph of Rio Vista relative to the ownership of a purported easement claimed by plaintiffs on a hall, oven, well and chapel, is waxing hot, owing to the fact that the holy ghost festival is to be held May 14 and 15.

The defendant has filed a motion which will be heard by the court on May 2, asking that a temporary injunction be granted against the plaintiff from using the hall and other appurtenances and asking that at the trial of the cause the temporary injunction, if granted, be made permanent.

In her answer to the complaint filed some days ago, Mrs Joseph alleges that the plaintiffs have not been in adverse possession of the premises for the past seventeen years and are not entitled to an easement on the property. ENABLING ACT PASSAGE URGED

The Santa Fe Improvement Association at a meeting last night passed resolutions urging the State Legislature to pass the enabling act for the sale of the Oakland school bonds. The resolutions were introduced by Johnson A. Thomas, former vice-president of the association, who called the members attention to the work being done by the finance committee of the board of education, consisting of Directors E. A. Young and Chandler. There has been delay, he said, in the construction of new school buildings for Oakland because the school bonds voted by the people of Oakland carry an interest rate of 5 per cent and at the present time there is no market for 5 per cent bonds, owing to many high-class bonds carrying a higher rate of interest. It is urged that the rate be increased to 6 per cent, which will provide a ready market for the bonds and will result in the immediate construction of the new school buildings so badly needed. It is believed the measure will pass, as it has committee recommendation

Frederick Kahn has been at Sacramento in the interests of this measure. A copy of the resolutions adopted by the Santa Fe Improvement Association will be sent to the Legislature and the organization has sent telegrams to Senators Breed, Carr and Anderson urging action Members of the association stated that the board of education should be given the fullest support in carrying out the building program for which the school bonds were voted.

PLEASANTON 'AT HOME' TOMORROW TO WHOLE STATE

Gorgeous May Festival Expected to Attract Thousands From Bay Cities.

With a gorgeous May Fete tomorrow Pleasanton opens a season of fiestas to which nearly every city and town of the Eastbay section will contribute a brilliant feature during the following month.

Pleasanton's festival will last all day and the program is plethoric of rich and beautiful features.

On Sunday, Livermore holds out a second enticement to bay cities automobilists, in its "Tryout Rodeo." It will be the real thing from one end to the other. Vaqueros of both California and Nevada will compete, and outlaw horses of both states will be turned into the arena. It is to be no frame-up for the gentle tourist, but a simon-pure contest between bard riders and rough cayuses.

Hayward, San Leandro, Concord, Centerville and a dozen other towns are to follow with one celebration or another on dates to be announced.

PLEASANTON, April 29.—The opening exercises of the Pleasanton May Fete will take place this evening in the Foresters' hall with an appropriate program being presented. The hall has been arranged to accommodate six hundred persons and it is expected that every seat will be occupied well in advance of the opening of the program. This will be the only indoor feature of the May exercises and on account of the big program arranged for the morrow, it was necessary to plan the various contests which would have to be held in connection with the festival, for tonight.

The program will start promptly at 8 o'clock, and at the conclusion of a few short literary and musical numbers the arithmetic, spelling, singing and declamation contests will start. In the arithmetic contest pupils from Pleasanton, Livermore, Sunol Glen, Mocho, Summit and Murray will participate, in the spelling contest those from Murray, Sunol Glen, Green, Pleasanton, Livermore and Summit; in the declamation contest ones from Livermore, Summit, Murray, Pleasanton, St. Michaels and Sunol Glen, and in the singing contest pupils from Green, Pleasanton, Murray, Livermore and Sunol Glen.

Two cups will be awarded in the singing contest, one for the Class A schools, which are those having an enrollment of less than fifty pupils, and one for the Class B, which are the ones having more than fifty. In the declamation contest a cup donated by W. H Bissell of Oakland will be awarded, as well as a cash prize of $5, the gift of H. Reuter of Livermore. The Pleasanton training park has donated a cup for the spelling contest and Mr. Reuter of Livermore a cash prize of $5. Special prizes will be given for the arithmetic contest.

Fischer, principal of the Technical high school of Oakland, to be present with Miss Kummer, Miss Crandall, Mr. Clayton and Mr. Kottinger, also members of the faculty of that school, to judge the four contests and to make the awards. HEAVY FINE FOR IMITATOR OF NUXATED IRON

Imposed by United States Judge

A heavy fine for violation of the criminal law for selling and trying to "palm off" on the public fraudulent imitations of Nuxated Iron has been imposed by a United States judge in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Nuxated Iron is an organic iron product, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples, while the iron which people usually take is metallic or mineral iron and can be made much cheaper than Nuxated Iron, as mineral iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron. On account of the large sale of Nuxated Iron—it being estimated that over 4,000,000 people annually are using it—imitators found in it a fertile field for their fraudulent work.

Note:—Nuxated Iron has the largest sale of any tonic or blood builder in the world. It will quickly increase the bodily and mental vigor of many rundown, nervous people in two weeks' time. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. Nuxated Iron comes in tablet or powder form.

Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and the letters N. I. on every tablet. For sale by all druggists.—Advertisement.

Berries Only Santa Clara Crop to Go 100 Per Cent

SAN JOSE, April 29.—Berries are the only agricultural product in Santa Clara valley expected to yield a 100 per cent crop during 1921, according to information given out by County Horticultural Commissioner L. R. Cody last night, following the completion of a table of statistics he has arranged for the United States government on the crop situation.

Prunes, this valley's largest and most famous crop, will be but a 65 per cent crop, indications are at the present time. The crop may not even reach that mark.

Apricots, the next biggest crop, is still less, only a 40 per cent output being expected, due to the bad weather conditions. Apples will be about 80 per cent full crop this year, Cody estimates, while he thinks that pears will reach about 75 per cent. Cherries are also expected to be about 75 per cent full crop. In the vineyard game, the wine grape crop should reach 70 per cent, with prices high. Peaches will be in the neighborhood of only 60 per cent. The walnut growers can expect an 80 per cent crop.

This information has been forwarded to Washington at the request of the government, and is to be used by the department of agriculture.

Woman Club Worker Warns Legislators

BERKELEY, April 29.—Women legislators are needed if any real progress is to be made in civic advancement, Miss Martha Ijans, graduate of the University of California and prominent club worker, told members of the Berkeley Center of the California Civic League yesterday.

"The present legislature has done less real work than any legislature in a long time," said Miss Ijans. "But if women of the state won't get out and work for women lawmakers and others capable of holding positions at Sacramento, they can expect situations like this."

Miss Ijans lauded Mrs. Saylor's work at Sacramento in sponsoring the bill abolishing capital punishment for minors and rapped Assemblyman Arthur A. Wendering for failing to be present at the vote on the prohibition enforcement measure.

"We intend to watch the work done by our representatives, and to remember their record when they come before us again for our votes," declared Miss Ijans.

MUSTEROLE

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

COUNTY CHANGES URGED BY GRAND JURY OF SOLANO

Would Take Road Work Out of Hands of District Supervisors.

FAIRFIELD, Solano Co., April 29.—The 1920 grand jury has completed its deliberations and investigations and upon presenting its report to Judge O'Donnell has been discharged.

The session of the jury has been one of long investigation, its operations being mainly against the bootlegging and illegal traffic in liquor which is flourishing in the county.

Among the most interesting recommendations made by the jury is that to the board of supervisors recommending that the board adopt the county engineer act, placing the road work of the county under control of the engineer instead of the individual supervisor of each district. The jury recommends that the change take effect on or before July 1, 1921.

Certain suggestions for changes in some of the offices were made by Expert S. F. Ellison of Vacaville, one recommending that the district attorney be disqualified from the practice of law in any court in which the county which he represents is not a party, such change not to apply to the incumbent, but to take effect January, 1923. Upon such change being made, he recommends that the office of the district attorney be made attorney for the public administrator and the fees received turned into the county treasury. He recommends that the district attorney be allowed $25 per month as traveling expenses.

The grand jury highly recommended District Attorney Lindauer in his activities relative to enforcement of bootlegging and gambling laws.

The office of the county clerk received commendation, County Clerk G. G. Halliday having saved the county two thousand dollars during the primary election effected through good judgment. The office of the sheriff and county treasurer were touched upon by the expert, stating that the books were kept in a high degree of efficiency, a vast financial improvement having been attained in the office of the county treasurer, and by judicious placing of county moneys in county banks it has earned a healthy balance in favor of the county.

The expert recommends that the office of treasurer and tax collector should be separated, whereby the public interest would best be subserved. The change would not take place until January, 1923, if made, effecting the next incumbent.

The offices of county auditor and recorder were touched upon, the expert stating that the books and records are conscientiously kept and from a business standpoint effects a proper check upon the various county offices. Ellison found the fee book and records nicely kept in the office of the recorder and recommended that the two copyists receive more salary for their work.

The assessor's office, according to the report, maintains a commendable degree of efficiency, it being said, according to the report, by an officer of the state board of control, that in no county assessor's office are records kept in better shape than that of Solano.

The grand jury deplored the fact that the ordinance dealing with tax on auto trucks had never been enforced and the county has lost much revenue thereby. Also a recommendation was made asking the supervisors to make a schedule of rates for auto hire for county use in emergencies instead of such high rates as are paid at the present.

JAPANESE TRUCK GARDENERS FILE MORTGAGES

WOODLAND, April 29.—Chattel mortgages filed here in large number by Japanese truck gardeners of the Sacramento Valley show, according to County Recorder Le R. Pierce, that an Oakland bank is financing many of them. Crop mortgages running up to $30,000 were recorded yesterday, with Japanese farmers as the mortgagees. One mortgage bore the names of 28 Japanese truck gardeners, another 34. This includes the bulk of the Orientals engaged in this business between Chico and Woodland. Truck gardeners were hard hit last year and although not believed to be in distress, it is thought that they are taking no chances due to the strained relations between the United States and Japan.

SAN JOSE PLANS OBSERVANCE OF MEMORIAL DAY

Committee Is Named by City Manager to Arrange Community Program.

SAN JOSE, April 29.—With the appointment by City Manager C. G. Goodwin last night of a committee to lay plans for a great community observance of Memorial Day, plans were under way today for making the event one long to be remembered in the city's history.

W. G. Alexander was named head of the general committee, Alexander Sherriff and Percy O'Connor, the latter being commandant of the American Legion, being named as his assistant chairmen. Two additional assistant chairmen are to be named in the near future and this general committee will in turn appoint subcommittees for the purpose of carrying out the various phases of the proceedings.

The Sheridan, Dix and Colonel A. G. Bennett posts of the G. A. R. will each name on a distant chairman to work in conjunction with the general committee.

The plans for this year's celebration of Memorial Day are perhaps the most broad in the history of the city. The day is expected to take on an added significance and the American Legion members are joining hands with the G. A. R. and Spanish war veterans in making it stand out as wholly reverent.

Great memorial services in the auditorium of the local high school, together with beautiful ceremonies in the various cemeteries of the city, will form the big part of the day's program.

WOMAN TO MAKE PLEA FOR PARDON OF ERRING SON

Case of "Wee Willie" Clark to Be Submitted to the Governor.

SAN JOSE, April 29.—Mrs. William Clark, correspondent mother of "Wee Willie" Clark, 16-year-old famous boy bandit and jail breaker, is preparing to leave this city for Sacramento, where she will make a personal plea to Governor William D. Stephens for a pardon for her son, announced yesterday in Eureka to serve an indeterminate sentence in the reformatory at San Quentin.

"Even in the bad, I feel that her lad is good at heart and not responsible for much that the things they say about him," Mrs. Clark is convinced that only the love of a mother heart for [illegible] plea for the boy bandit will win the favor of the governor. "I feel sure he will care to trust the boy on an honesty. She places more faith in herself. Besides, she says, she is too young to give one.

Mrs. Clark also announced today that she will leave San Jose. The neighbors around her Cunahar street home, she says, have become angry over the notoriety which the neighborhood has received because "Wee Willie" has been heralded as a part of it.

"They are so quick to condemn," says Mrs. Clark, "and so slow to sympathize and trust. Willie has more good in his soul than bad and I know that if they give him half a chance he'll show the world he can be a man. They won't give him a chance. But I believe the governor will hear me and I'm going to tell him the whole story of Willie Clark, in a way that will make him forgive and pardon the lad. Imagine placing that poor, helpless youngster, full of devilry and nothing more, behind the walls of San Quentin. It can't be. It mustn't be, and I am going to do all in my power to win him back."

FAILURE PER SCHEDULE

Another German plot to escape her peace obligations has fizzled. It has all come out just as THE TRIBUNE predicted and with results which this newspaper held to be the only logical outcome of the tactics of the Berlin foreign office.

Having ascertained through official channels that the German proposal on reparations was unacceptable to the Allied governments, the United States government will decline to forward the German note. This should constitute another very forceful reminder to Germany that it cannot hope to enlist the United States in its scheme to evade the just obligations assumed upon the signing of the Versailles peace treaty. It will leave the United States in a self-respecting position at any rate.

A merely casual examination of the German proposal and the Allied demand regarding reparations serves to demonstrate the absurd inadequacy of the German offer. The Allied reparations commission, after a most careful examination, finds that the damage inflicted by the German military machine, exclusive of the damage justified by admissible military considerations, amounts to 132 billions of gold marks, or approximately $22,000,000,000. Even this figure does not represent entirely the non-military losses suffered because of Germany's conduct of the war, but is substantially affected by Allied opinion as to Germany's capacity to make good the loss.

Germany offered to pay fifty billion gold marks, or about $12,000,000,000. There is a wide difference here. Moreover the German proposal is not entitled to the consideration it might otherwise receive because of the dishonest manner in which it has been submitted. The Berlin schemers have taken the estimated total amount that would have been paid in principal and interest over a period of forty-two years, amounting to approximately 200 million marks, and have tried to make it appear that this total was the basic figure of their offer, when as a matter of fact fifty billion marks was their basic offer.

Other features of the German proposal add to its worthlessness. There is an attempt to set up conditions requiring the Allied governments to float German bonds, to correct the present unfavorable condition of exchange regarding the German mark, and to permit German workers and their overseers to enter in large numbers the areas the German army laid desolate and to take part in the work of reconstruction.

It may be possible that a way out will be found, but at this hour it does not seem likely that the French and British plans of invasion of additional German territory on May 1 can be altered. They ought not be altered unless evidence which cannot now be looked for of German intention to pay to the limit of capacity is forthcoming within the next forty-eight hours.

STEEL AS AN INDEX.

In this country the production of steel is one of the most reliable indices of national prosperity. This is due to the fact that steel and its products enter into so large and vital an extent into the general industrial life of the country. It is worthy of note that the production of crude steel in the four principal producing countries for 1920 was approximately the same as recorded in the pre-war period.

In 1913 these principal countries, the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany, produced 62,233,000 tons, and in 1920 the total production for the same four countries was 61,745,000 tons. The production in this country was even more favorable than indicated above, the production of 1920 being 40,773,000 tons, or about two thirds of the total, as compared to the 1913 output of 31,301,000 tons, or about one half of the total.

The high production in the United States during 1920 has been offset by the very low output in recent months. The production in March, 1921, as reported by the Iron and Steel Institute, was only 1,570,978 tons, compared with 3,299,049 tons in March last year. The March production was at the yearly rate of only 21,258,000 tons, compared to an actual production by the same companies in 1920 of 34,432,000 tons. This is a reduction in the yearly rate of about 40 per cent. It is estimated that the steel industry in this country is now operating at about 35 per cent of its capacity.

It is to be observed from the above that the capacity for steel production at the close of 1920 was vastly greater than it was in 1913 and that at the close of last year actually more steel was being produced in this country than seven years ago. Beginning in October and continuing for six months there has been a period of severe depression in the steel business. Unfilled orders have decreased, many plants have curtailed operations at the same time have restricted the production of iron ore.

There has been, however, within the last few weeks strong indication of returning prosperity in steel production. Operators, notably Mr. E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, display much optimism and are looking forward to a day in the immediate future when their capacity will be taxed to the limit.

All line of industry and business in the United States may well take courage from the situation as to the steel industry. When that industry is moving upward all other lines should adopt the same motion.

PERFORMANCES SPEAK.

In transmitting on January 5th last his message to the State legislature Governor William D. Stephens said:

"The most that the State can do is to use every opportunity, even to the extent of frugality, where that frugality is not wastefulness, to husband the resources of our State, to limit as far as possible its expenditures, to develop all latent powers of wealth, equipping ourselves, as Nature has so bounteously enabled us to do, with the inexhaustible power of our water resources and our fuel oil, and with this all, practicing a rigid economy."

On that date the Governor apparently expected the legislature and the people of California to believe that these were his sentiments. They were accepted in good faith by the uninitiated both in and outside the legislature. Even this newspaper, solemnly cautioned by long experience, expressed its confidence in the sincerity of the Governor's words.

What does the record now say? Within a few hours after the delivery of his opening message the Governor submitted the estimates of the State budget board calling for the expenditure of $81,387,692 51. The previous budget had amounted only to $47,380,153.66. And thereupon the Governor, through his political whips and agents, stoutly and effectually combatted every effort and every suggestion to modify the budget board's unprecedented bill of expenditures.

Nor was this all. A bill increasing the tax burden of the people by over $18,000,000 was introduced, and the same political forces of the State administration were employed in jamming this measure through a legislature in which a considerable element, apprehensive of the results, was opposed to so heavy an increase in the tax burden.

These two acts have been typical and eloquent of the policy which Governor Stephens in reality was determined to carry out, in contradistinction to the policy which in his biennial message he pretended to favor.

The legislature is about through with its work and its misdeeds for the present session. It has exercised no opportunity to "husband the resources of our state" or "to limit as far as possible its expenditures." It has not been permitted by the State administration to exhibit any inclination for economy. It will pass into history as having imposed upon California the largest and the most extravagant budget of expenditure in the history of the State.

The State Railroad Commission has reverted to its benevolent policy toward the Southern Pacific and has allowed it another extension of forty five days before beginning the construction of the new depot ordered to be erected at the terminal station at Fourteenth and Franklin streets in Oakland. There was a time when it seemed as if the commission realized the affliction to the great city of Oakland which the Southern Pacific shacks constitute and was determined to eradicate a long standing shame. But now it is attentive to the frivolous requests of the railroad corporation and deaf to the public voice.

USE OF RESERVE EARNINGS.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announces that he has received about $61,000,000 from the Federal Reserve banks as "franchise tax," based on the earnings of last year, and has applied it in canceling outstanding Treasury certificates of indebtedness. This is the practical working out of the system of distribution of earnings originally provided for in the Federal Reserve act, and affords the answer to the criticisms currently made by members of Congress and others as to the "profiteering" tendencies of the reserve institutions.

The banks have recently taken over the functions of the sub-Treasuries and are now performing them without charge for the Federal government. This, according to a public statement issued by Secretary of the Treasury Houston shortly before his retirement, is equivalent to a saving of the interest on about $25,000,000 and is, accordingly, to be credited to the reserve banks as a further contribution to the advantage of the public. How far the clearance and collection system now in vogue has resulted in saving actual outlay to the merchants and financiers of the United States it would be difficult to estimate, but the sum so saved, when all is considered (including not only the saving in actual collection charges but also the economies growing out of keeping otherwise idle funds at work), will easily run into the hundreds of millions of dollars. It is, indeed, not so much in the direct profitableness of the system and in its indirect savings and economies that the practical advantage of reserve banking is found.

These gains are, of course, over and above the general improvements in financial arrangements which grow out of the reserve system, such as the furnishing of an adequate currency, the prevention of stringencies and the other more general though chief reasons for the organization of the system.—New York Journal of Commerce.

NOTES and COMMENT

We have to accord a meed of credit to General Saito. He was the Japanese commandant at Vladivostok when Lieutenant Langdon was shot by a Japanese sentry. The sentry was tried and found not guilty, though sentence to a month's imprisonment for not getting the account of the tragedy straight. General Saito, after the manner of the higher class Japanese, either considered himself responsible or the treatment of the incident by his government unfair, and saw no way out except the harikara route.

There was a great deal of talk about what the Legislature would do to the dry cause—how it would at least voice the sentiment of an extra wet State for the benefit of the Congress. But when voting time came even the wettest of the wets lost their enthusiasm, and the Wright Enforcement bill went through without even a close fit. However, another referendum is in prospect, when it ought to again be demonstrated exactly how the people stand.

The raisin men have managed to get the general populace interested in their day, which has resulted in an immense increase in the consumption of a fruit that erstwhile figured only in cakes and Christmas puddings. It is a striking example of judicious publicity. There are other similar California products that would seem to be more susceptible to advertising than raisins, but so far the systems that have been followed have not secured such results for any of them as has characterized the raisin effort. After all, a good deal is in the way it is done.

For almost a month people were writing and talking of balmy spring with their coats buttoned up and a tendency to hunt the sunny side of shelter; but at last it seems to be here. The straw hat is no longer anachronistic. The call of out of doors is genuine and sure to be heeded. And there is nowhere such a glorious springtime season as here in California.

When we read that men and women carrying pitchers and basins appeared on the scene in New York when 600 gallons of beer was to be emptied in a sewer, and had to be headed off by police from salvaging the condemned booze out of the gutter, we must conclude that the thirst of the populace is not wholly the creation of paragraphists and humorous writers.

There is a bill now before Congress providing for the coinage of a two and one-half cent piece, to bear a likeness of Theodore Roosevelt. It will not be a medium of great intrinsic value to perpetuate his memory, but it will be a popular one. And that will be in line with his whole career—doing the thing that is the greatest good to the greatest number.

"Germany defies Allies as date nears for payment on reparations account." That ought to bring matters to a crisis. There has been a good deal of dilly-dallying, until belief was growing that the Allies were giving way to an extent. Now it will be seen exactly where the bluffing has been.

The surprising news is vouchsafed that 200,000 acres of wine grapes have been set out this year. In the good old wet days when anybody could go as far as he liked in wine-making, no such acceleration of the industry was recorded. The demure explanation that wineries will be permitted to manufacture any quantity for medicinal use accounts for it. An immense amount of illness is evidently being provided for.

As the popular sentiment against hanging is definite and growing it is not a surprise that such a measure as the Saylor bill, against the hanging of murderers under 18 years of age, should carry. The wonder really is that there should be any hesitation about it, which there seems to have been, necessitating conciliatory amendments.

The crew of a commercial fishing boat from San Pedro hauled their purse seine net near Seal Rocks last week, taking thirty-two tons of barracuda in one haul. They followed the fish, and when they had reached District No. 20 they immediately dropped their 2000 fathom net, surrounded the school and loaded their boat with fish almost to the top of the cabin. For almost thirty minutes after the purse-seine boat had left Seal Rocks the water was alive with sharks, eating wounded barracuda.—Catalina Islander.

RAISIN DAY

ROBINSON CRUSOE SPOTS

Crowded as the world seems to be getting, Robinson Crusoe could find a haven today and he would not have to resort to the polar regions either.

"Numerous islands still dot the seas where a visitor would find no living soul, and there are others where the inhabitants are living in almost primitive simplicity," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"Nor is it necessary for you to choose a plot of land belonging to any other country than the United States. There is Baker's island, 3725 miles out from San Francisco, as well as many other such isolated dots in the Pacific, where there will be no chance of getting even a faithful Friday to share your lot. Vessels used to haul guano from the island, but today the deposits are practically worked out. If you feel that you must have your wife somewhere in the offing you can send her on to Howland island, 25 miles to the westward, an equally deserted spot, and row over to see her when you get bored with your freedom.

"Fanning island might interest a less exclusive individual. This elysium lies in the mid-Pacific, about 235 miles north of the equator, is of atoll formation, and is thickly covered with cocoanut trees. There is a fair harbor on the southwest side, out of which its 200 men and women ship their copra. Pearl oysters are to be found in the lagoon, poultry and cattle can be procured, the fish are plentiful and excellent and duck, snipe and curlew may be shot.

"A British cruiser late in 1920 visited a spot which has had only one other caller at her port since July, 1919. This isolated place is Tristan da Cunha, said to be the loneliest spot in the British empire. The island, which is of volcanic origin, towers to a height of 8000 feet above sea-level in the South Atlantic. So thoroughly has the never-worry creed taken its hold upon the people that the men move in a listless fashion, only bestirring themselves enough to keep from starving, and let the women do what work there is to be done. There are only 119 inhabitants on the island, living in its 22 stone thatch-roofed houses. Their wood is that which drifts in to them on the tide, they raise potatoes as the food staple, they make their moccasins of soft bullock hide, they obtain a few clothes from an occasional ship which calls there in exchange for geese, fowls, milk, sheep, eggs and cured albatross and penguin skins, and for months in succession they do without bread, tea, coffee and sugar. The people are fast deteriorating in type, due to interbreeding.

"The nearest inhabited island to Tristan da Cunha is St. Helena, of Napoleonic fame. This rugged bit of earth rises out of the South Atlantic 1200 miles from the nearest part of the African coast. Before the days of the Suez canal it had some commercial importance, but today its excellent harbor shelters vessels only while they are coaling. Its ten thousand inhabitants enjoy a most equable climate, the mean temperature ranging throughout the whole year from 65 to 71 degrees.

"A bit of land in the Pacific, which, as did Yap, ruffled the surface of the peace conference, is Nauru. Though only 12 miles in circumference, this pretty little island with its many beautiful lagoons which mirror its tall coral pinnacles and cocoanut palms in life-like perfection, is a treasure house of millions of tons of rich phosphate of lime. It is perhaps one of the most liveable of the Pacific islands, as the promoters of the phosphate industry have established free laundries, ice, electric lights and refrigerators for the preservation of fresh foods. Employees have their own homes and there is an almost endless succession of social functions to keep them alive and happy. In fact, the place is known as Pleasant island.

"If there is a skeleton in your closet, rest assured that the few inhabitants of Easter island, 2300 miles off the coast of Chile and the easternmost inhabited Polynesian island, will make no effort to bring it forth into the light, as one traveler says of them that they are not curious enough to turn around on the dock to look at the boat that calls there about once in eighteen months. Gigantic statues, stone houses and sculptured rocks, relics of an ancient people, are found on the island.

"One rather isolated spot that owes its fame to the elder Dumas, is the little island of Montecristo, which lies 25 miles south of Elba. The king of Italy now has a hunting lodge on the island, which is interesting to visitors on account of the ruins of the Camaldulensian monastery."

About YOUR HEALTH

What True "Cystitis" Is—Ways Relief May Be Found

By ROYAD S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Almost every disease has an acute form and a chronic form. This is true of "cystitis," or inflammation of the bladder.

The lining of the bladder is mucuous membrane, and this part of the body is liable to all the diseases which may attack mucous membranes elsewhere.

In the acute form, the attack may be ushered in by a chill. Then there is more or less fever. The irritation causes frequent desire to urinate. Usually the amount of urine actually passed is very little, each drop seeming like a globule of fire.

There may be a sense of illness, dull pain over the region of the bladder, loss of appetite and sleepless ness.

In the chronic form of cystitis there are dull pain and frequent urination, but also cloudy, mucus-filled urine.

The chronic form is sometimes called "catarrh of the bladder." This is because of the considerable quantity of mucus expelled with the urine.

The frequency of the urination may disturb the rest of the patient. He may be called repeatedly from his bed and actually suffer from need of sleep.

The urine is repulsive in appearance and foul of smell. Sometimes it is bloody, and always it is muddy.

Cystitis results at time from the awkward use of a catheter. Any sort of instrumentation must be made with surgically clean instruments or trouble is sure to follow.

The treatment of cystitis depends upon the nature, severity and duration of the disease. If it is an acute case, rest in bed is essential. Absolute quiet is imperative.

Many of the old-fashioned, domestic remedies are useful. For instance, slippery-elm tea is very good. A pint of hot water is poured over an ounce of slippery-elm bark. The purpose of this drink is to dilute the urine and to make it less irritating.

For the same purpose flaxseed tea may be used. A pint of boiling water is porded over a half-ounce of flaxseed. A little licorice root may be added for flavor.

These drinks may be taken often, and will promote the comfort of the sufferer.

Hot baths, especially hot hip baths, frequently repeated, will tend to reduce the inflammation and relieve the pain. A hot water bag or hot fomentations over the place of the pain will help.

Many of the mineral waters are supposed to possess certain virtues. Citrate of magnesia is a favorite internal remedy.

Of course, many cases, especially of chronic cystitis, require careful local treatment, and such treatment can be given only by the physician. I have ventured merely to suggest a few harmless remedies which may be used in an emergency.

In all cases of cystitis the diet should be restricted. Sometimes limiting the food to milk alone will greatly assist.

If the dove of peace had intended to nest on the island of Yap this summer she will have to make other arrangements.—Red Bluff News.

PIONEER ALAMEDA REALTY MAN DIES AT ENCINAL HOME

Frank Hally Closes His Long Career As Soldier and Business Factor.

ALAMEDA, April 29.—Frank Hally, one of Alameda's best known real estate men, died yesterday morning. Hally, who has been associated with his son, Frank W. Hally, at 2315 Santa Clara avenue, was a pioneer of Alameda, having resided here since 1867. For the past twenty years he had engaged in real estate business and had witnessed the island of Encinal grow from its three small villages into the present consolidated city of Alameda.

Hally was born in Syracuse, N. Y., and was 75 years of age. He was in the civilian service of the United States government with station at Charleston, during the Civil War. Immediately after that event, he came to Alameda and opened a blacksmith shop.

Hally is survived by a son, Frank W. Hally, a widow, Mrs. Jane Hally, and three daughters—Mrs. Jennie Parker, Mrs. Lydia Meyers and Miss Katherine Hally. Services will be held tomorrow, interment in St. Mary's being private.

MILK PRICE CUT OF ONE CENT IS ORDERED SUNDAY

14-Cent Milk for 3 Cities the Dealers Promise; 12-Cent Milk for Alameda.

Milk by the quart will drop one cent beginning Sunday, according to announcement today of the Alameda County Milk Dealers' Association. The price of pints will remain stationary. This will give a 14 cents per quart service throughout Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda. Ten cents per pint will conti ue in effect. Cost of bottling and handling and the movement toward a wider use of milk is said to be responsible for the small difference between the pint and quart schedules.

Oakland State Housewives' League, Mrs. H. J. Platts, president, has been in conference with the Milk Dealers' Association for the past several weeks, in an effort to obtain a reduction in milk costs. No boycott was declared by the local women who were assured by the milkmen that they would receive a benefit of a decrease in schedule as soon as possible. The housewives have awaited the termination of the contracts under which the association was working. At a meeting last week rumors that within a few days a reduction would be announced, halted any action by the Housewives' League.

The new scale goes into effect May 1.

ALAMEDA, April 29.—Alameda Housewives today announced that they are going to give a practical demonstration that 12-cent milk can be sold at a profit to the householder. Commencing May 1 they will have their own rvice. This was arranged for through an independent producer at yesterday's meeting of the Alameda Housewives' League. The service will start May 1. According to Mrs. Harry Tenny, chairman of the Fair Price committee, the first distribution station will be at Bay Station. From there it will be delivered to the housewives at 12 cents a quart. Two more stations are to be established.

Mrs. Tenny presided at yesterday's meeting, owing to the illness of the president, Mrs. May Larkin Marston, who has been confined to her home for the past week. The members were addressed by Mrs. Emma Burke upon James Whitcomb Riley. Mrs. Burke was a personal friend of the great poet and told many interesting events regarding his life.

SCIENTISTS WIN 60 YEARS' HUNT FOR CHEMICAL

WILMINGTON, Del., April 29.—Discovery of a substitute for bone black, or bone char, the standard material used in decolorizing and refining sugar and various liquids, syrups and oils, was announced today by the Atlas Powder Co. Scientists have searched for 60 years for such a substance, it was said. The invention will even permit the making of white granulated sugar directly at the raw sugar mill, the announcement said.

CROWDS FLOCK TO FRESNO'S ANNUAL RAISIN FESTIVAL

Two Days' Fete Will Include Music, Sports and Auto Races.

FRESNO, April 29.—Attended by thousands, coming in automobiles, by train and on foot, the annual California raisin festival opened here today. The fete will continue two days and will include a concert, street fair, fireworks, dancing, and athletic sports, closing tomorrow with an automobile race in which some of the leading pilots of the country will compete.

The feature of the opening day was the allegorical pageant in which hundreds of decorated floats took part. The Pageant, called "The Garden of the Sun," depicted the present and the future of the raisin industry. Thirteen divisions with as many bands participated. The column extended for more than two miles.

The entire city is decorated in gala array A chorus of 1000 trained singers will be one of the features of the two-day festival.

This afternoon was taken up by a state championship baseball game at Holmes Park between the San Jose and Fresno high school teams, and a big music festival at the city auditorium. The orchestra furnishing music for the chorus, 1000 strong, consists of 70 pieces with Irene Pavlouska, mezzo-soprano, and several other well known operatic stars. Later in the day there was a band concert in Court park.

Tonight will be taken up with carnival and shows and a musical festival in the auditorium.

Tomorrow Tommy Milton, Ralph De Palma, Ira Vail and other world-famous speed kings will pilot their machines around the speedway in a test for speed supremacy for 150 miles.

Grizzly Hunt With Arrows Is Described

ALAMEDA, April 29.—Dr. Saxton Pope of the University of California addressed the students of the Alameda High school today upon the proper methods of using the bow and arrow, illustrating his talk with stereopticon slides of his bear hunt in the Yellowstone National Park last year. Dr. Pope received permission from the government to hunt grizzlies in the park. His only weapon was the bow. He killed five and one was larger than any other ever killed in Yellowstone.

Dr. Pope also told the students about Ishi, last survivor of the Yana tribe, who was captured several years ago near Chico and who died at the Affiliated Colleges because he was unable to withstand civilizing influences.

Assembly Exonerates Appellate Justices

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Exoneration of Justices Elijah J. Hart and Albert G. Burnett of the Third District Court of Appeal, against whom impeachment proceedings were filed by A. H. Carpentet, Stockton attorney, was voted by the Assembly yesterday through unanimous adoption of the Judiciary Committee's report.

The report was based on an investigation made by five members of the Judiciary Committee, who found that Carpenter's assertion that the court was used in the interests of the rich and influential, were without foundation and due to his having become disgruntled because court actions in which he was interested were decided against him.

Grapejuice and Prunes On Legislative Menu

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Grape juice and prunes formed the menu for a legislative lunch yesterday. Assemblyman Spalding of Santa Clara county distributed canned prunes from his home county to all members and attaches, and Bismarck Bruck, a former legislator, distributed grape juice of his own manufacture.

Just after the grape juice had gone around, McDowell of Fresno sent a page to deliver one raisin to each member, with an injunction to "save the bottle."

"High Riding" Bill Lost in Assembly

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—At an early hour this morning the assembly defeated the "high riding" bill by Senator Sharkey, providing that brakemen need not ride on top of freight trains. The defeat of the bill means that the practice of the brakemen so riding must continue. The vote followed a call of the house that held for two hours and was 31 aye to 41 no.

TREATY MAKING CHANGE PROPOSED

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—A constitutional amendment for submission to the voters of the United States was proposed yesterday by Senator W. R. Sharkey, who offered a senate joint resolution urging Congress to change the treaty ratification process so that a majority of both houses would be necessary to approve a treaty negotiated by the President, instead of two-thirds of a quorum of the senate as at present. The object, Senator Sharkey said, was to protect the states against the incorporation in treaties of subjects that belong to state jurisdiction. It would, he said, prevent such treaty making as that reported to be in progress between the United States and Japan, which, he said, threatened the sovereignty of California in strictly state matters.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, The people of the United States in adopting the Federal Constitution did so with the reservation that all powers not therein delegated to the central government nor prohibited to the states were reserved to the people and to the states respectively; and

"Whereas, It was the intent and purpose of said reservation to retain for the states the power to legislate in matters of local concern, and

"Whereas, It would appear that the constitutional provision relative to the treaty making power is susceptible to the construction that in treaties with foreign countries provisions may be incorporated governing subjects that are within the jurisdiction of the States; and

"Whereas, It is contrary to the spirit and purpose of our form of government that the President and two-thirds of a quorum of the senate should possess the latent power by treaty to adopt measures prohibited under the Constitution to Congress under the legislative power; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the senate and assembly jointly that the legislature of the State of California hereby memoralizes Congress to propose to the states an amendment to the Constitution of the United States having for its purpose the vesting of the treaty making power in the President acting by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the members elected to the Senate and House of Representatives, with the limitation that no treaty shall ever be made in violation of any rights reserved to the state respectively, or to the people; and be it further

"Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be transmitted to the president of the Senate, the speaker of the House, and to each of California's Senators and Representatives in Congress."

WOMAN REPORTS THEFT.

Clothing and jewelry valued at $800 was stolen last night from the home of Mrs Laura Olson, 1075 Forty-fifth avenue. She reported the theft to the police early this morning. Among the articles were an opal ring, fourteen diamonds, pearl necklace, jade ring, silk chemise, mink fur, black satin dress and plain blue dress.

JANGLED NERVES CAUSE CLASH IN STATE SENATE

Yonkin Strikes At Johnson and Fisticuffs Narrowly Averted.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Jangled nerves got the best of the members of the California state senate last night near the end of a day devoted to disposition of an almost overwhelming amount of routine work, featured by numerous wrangles, and Senators Johnson and Yonkin nearly came to blows on the floor of the chamber.

Yonkin had offered and the senate had accepted amendments to Assemblyman Morris' motor vehicle bill. Johnson protested that an unfair advantage had been taken while he was conferring with another member. Thereupon Yonkin strode down the aisle with arms swinging and struck at Johnson. Senator Anderson intervened and the fisticuffs were averted while the chamber was thrown in confusion.

Other evidences of the strain of the long, hard session, now drawing to a close, came earlier in the day when Sample offered a resolution intended to oust everyone from the chamber except members, their families, the clerical force and the newspaper men. Duncan offered a substitute to extend the privilege to still other persons.

A parliamentary jam followed, and after Sample ironically suggested that everyone in the capital be invited in, a motion to lay the entire matter on the table was carried. San Francisco city and several state officials were on the floor at the time.

Rigdon declared 9 assemblymen were bitterly complaining that the sergeant-at-arms had barred them from the upper house. Thomas Brown, the sergeant-at-arms, told the senate the action had been taken only in the cases of those who were "not courteous enough" to say who they were.

Dennett demanded, and it was agreed, that one of the senate rules, limiting the persons given access to the floor, be enforced.

FORCE OF HABIT PROVES STRONG WITH SOLONS

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Force of habit almost caused Assemblyman John C. Webster of Sonora to lose $198 a year salary for a county tax collector last night. The assembly had thirty-seven sets of senate amendments to accept or reject. Thirty-six sets were all right, and everybody was saying "aye" mechanically as the roll call was being run through. When the house reached Webster's bill, he explained that it was a Mariposa county government bill, that by mistake the salary of the tax collector had been set at $1002 instead of $1200, and that therefore, he wanted the amendments refused, so the bill could go to conference and be corrected. When he finished his speech the roll call started.

"Anderson," said the clerk.

"Aye," said Anderson, and went on with his conversation.

"Badaracco."

"Aye."

"Badham."

"Aye."

"Baker."

"Aye."

"Mister Speaker," in a stentorian roar from Webster, "I want these amendments beaten! Please start that roll again."

This time Anderson said "no," everybody else followed him and the tax collector was saved his $198.

Rate Committee Is Praised by Governor

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Governor William D. Stephens has sent letters to members of the Freight Rate Committee congratulating them for work performed in behalf of the cause of lower freight rates on fruit shipments and food products of other kinds grown in this state. The letter, in part, reads:

"I am writing you as a member of the Freight Rate Committee, named some time ago by the State Market Director at my suggestion, and taking this opportunity to congratulate you on the splendid work that you and the other members have performed in so far advancing the cause of the growers of California, by reason of the adoption of Assembly joint resolution, No. 31.

"The resolution, which will be presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States from California, will undoubtedly be the means of bringing about the relief desired in a reduction of the freight rates, and to the end that the food products of California will go on uninterrupted to the food markets of the world."

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs, and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bisurated Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bisurated Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bisurated Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.—Advertisement.

Session to Be Prolonged After Clocks Are Stopped

SACRAMENTO, April 29.—Senate and Assembly today began the last legislative day of the session. The clocks in the two chambers are to be stopped early, and "12 o'clock, noon, April 29," probably will not arrive until some time Sunday or Monday. Apparently the senate will bear the brunt of the big accumulation of work. It has yet to pass the general appropriation bill to take care of the state government and its agencies during the next two years.

The bill to transfer control of San Francisco harbor from the state to the city is a special order of business in the senate today.

Assemblyman Morris' much-amended motor vehicle bill and Assemblyman Graves' indeterminate franchise measure are among other measures the senate must dispose of.

AID FOR EX-SOLDIERS

The assembly early this morning, at a session running over from last night, passed three of the four bills which comprise the veterans' legislative program for this session. The bills, which had already passed the senate, were:

By Inman—Providing for the submission of a proposition for a $10,000,000 bond issue to the people, to create a fund to carry on the work of the Veterans' Welfare Board and the veterans' farm and home purchase act.

By Arbuckle—Creating the veterans' welfare board, defining its powers and duties and appropriating $1,000,000 to start operations, which sum is to be returned from the bond issue, if that is approved, or to be returned eventually, under the operation of the act itself.

By Arbuckle—An act to provide educational opportunities for veterans, and appropriating $500,000 therefor.

The fourth and last bill of the series is Assemblyman Hart's farm and home purchase act, which has already passed the assembly, and is on third reading file in the senate. The veterans' legislative council hoped to pass that bill today, thus completing its program for the session.

OTHER BILLS PASSED

Senate bills passed at the afternoon session and sent to the governor included in addition to those mentioned the following:

Jones—Increasing the salary of stenographer for clerk of supreme court to $1800.

Breed—Creating a $2500 revolving fund for the state corporation department.

Scott—Granting increases to employees in adjutant general's office.

FARMERS' STATE PROGRAM INTACT

SACRAMENTO, April 29. — The farmers' program in the present session has been passed virtually intact, it was announced today by R. N. Wilson, chairman of the agriculture legislative committee representing many co-operative growers organizations. The budget of the Department of Agriculture, which was endorsed by the farm organizations, was the only one not reduced by the budget board or the legislature. The College of Agriculture also will receive more liberal support. A committee of seven will be appointed by the governor to study during the next two years the Agriculture College situation and report to the next Legislature.

Among the bills of interest to farmers, passed and sent to the governor, the following are listed by Wilson:

Harris—Amending the laws governing co-operative marketing organizations.

Rush—Regulating dogs running at large, a bill refused passage by other legislatures.

Jones—Fixing standards for fruits and vegetables and adding wine grapes to the list.

Harris—Providing that butter fat tests at creameries must be indelibly recorded to prevent unfair manipulation.

Rigdon—Pure seed bill.

Boggs—Noxious weeds bill.

Rigdon—Encouraging the use of pure bred bulls on the open range.

FIVE MASONIC LODGES WELCOME GRAND MASTER

Craftsmen of Berkeley Pay Tribute to G. F. Rodden; Dr. Barrows Speaks.

BERKELEY, April 29. — Members of five Masonic lodges in Berkeley and visiting Masons from around the bay met in the Masonic Temple at Bancroft and Shattuck avenue last night to welcome G. F. Rodden, grand master of Masons, in the jurisdiction of California. More than 800 members of the order were present when the entire assemblage sat down to dinner at 6:30 o'clock last evening.

The official reception of the grand master formed the first part of the program. He was welcomed by E. A. Richards, master of Berkeley Lodge, No. 363, who was toastmaster, and who presented Rodden, and Max Plumb, inspector, and C. H. Victor, chairman of the committee on education, to the assemblage.

During the reception Dr. J. H. N. Williams, pastor of Grace M. E. church, San Francisco, presented Berkeley Lodge, No. 363, with a Bible which is over 100 years old, having been printed in England in 1821. The presentation was made in behalf of J. G. Howell.

Toastmaster Richards inaugurated a novel method of introducing the main speaker of the evening, President David P. Barrows of the University of California. He first introduced J. Flaa, master of Durant Lodge, who in turn introduced Judge William P. Waste. Judge Waste kept the ball rolling, and introduced President Barrows, who spoke on the advantages of education. He declared that the University of California is admirably located, being near the heart of an industrial center, where students find opportunity to put themselves through college.

Business Men Told Evils Of Alternative Proposal

Members of the Mutual Business Men's Association at their regular meeting yesterday heard the arguments against the submission of the plan for city and county consolidation in the alternate proposal. Two weeks ago a proponent of the plan spoke before the organization. Yesterday's speaker was Frederick Faulkner of The Oakland TRIBUNE. Faulkner said in part:

"It has quickly developed that the project for consolidation was a mask for a sinister movement. The proponents of the original plan have now all but abandoned it, and are concentrating upon efforts to force the submission of the proposition in the alternative. The alternative proposition is a project which if carried to a conclusion will mean county division. Do you, or do you not, want a divided county if division certainly means loss of business, slowing up of progress, and abandonment of our position of prestige in the great Eastbay district?

"We then will have under the alternative, there can be no reasonable doubt, a county divided into three parts, Oakland, Piedmont, and Emeryville composing one part, Berkeley and Albany and the north constituting the second part, and Alameda city and the up-country district constituting the third.

NOT GOOD BUSINESS

"The gentlemen on the other side of this proposition contend that they do not care what Alameda and the country districts do with reference to the alternative, nor what becomes of them. I do not agree with that attitude. It is not good business nor good morals. Those who have concentrated years of effort toward bringing about a condition under which Alameda and the up-country district would look to Oakland as their example and mentor and a metropolitan center of the districts of which they are a part are seriously disturbed by the prospects that complete alienation will be effected, and the people of those districts will turn to another community and to other interests. I do not know how you stand in this matter.

"As to Berkeley, you need not be told what change will follow the separation of that city from the rest of the county. You have for years been witnesses to the effort of good Oakland citizens to bring Berkeley into closer business and social relations with Oakland to wean her away from a portion of her dependence upon and affection for San Francisco. You know the difficulties that have surrounded these efforts and the slow progress that has been possible. With county division we may as well abandon Berkeley as a foreign city.

NEED CAREFUL STUDY

"These are a few of the things which the alternative will mean. I do not consider them pleasant to anticipate. I regard them seriously. I hold that they deserve and command your earnest consideration, your careful study and your measured judgment.

"Those on the other side say that Berkeley is only bluffing, that Alameda does not mean what she says, that they will force these two communities into a union unpleasant for them. Surely you know better than that. Berkeley and Alameda are not cities comparable in courage and knowledge and the capacity for decision to children. They are man-size cities. They know what they are about. They know what they want. They comprehend the unpleasant condition which others are striving to force upon them and be assured they will know how to act when the time comes. When anyone tells you that these cities can be kicked and cuffed around; that you can 'seize them by the collar' and do with them as you will, make up your mind that that individual does not know what he is talking about.

"Those on the other side tell you that to oppose the submission of the alternative is to oppose county-wide consolidation. It is nothing of the kind. There is little analogy between the alternative and city and county consolidation. The alternative is county division, palpably so, confessedly so, indisputably so. There is nothing of the spirit of union and co-operation about it. Those on the other side tell you that if the alternative is not submitted county consolidation will be defeated. No contention was ever more baseless; no falsehood ever more false. County division is one thing and county consolidation another. Those that are for genuine city and county consolidation cannot be under any circumstance for the alternative proposition.

"Those on the other side tell you that the government brought about under the alternative would mean and a reduction in your tax rate. That is pure buncombe. You do not reduce expenses by dividing your plant, by splitting up your organization into several smaller organizations, by dividing the field of your resources and turning three-fourths of it over to newly established competitors.

"The per capita cost of government in Oakland will be inevitably raised if under the alternative proposition a new political government is established which excludes Berkeley, Alameda and the remainder of the up-country districts from its operations. There is no question about that. It takes no labored argument to convince you business men that that is a certain danger under the alternative proposition.

WOULD AID ENEMIES

"Let me warn you that if there are enemies of Eastbay solidarity, envious of the growing importance of this great Eastbay district in the eyes of the world and in its own self-sufficiency, who wanted to injure this district, they would select out of all the instruments of harm offered them the alternative proposition. County division, the break-up of the spirit of union and co-operation that has already found root on the continental side of the bay would serve exactly the purpose of our enemies. Nothing else could do half so well."

RUMANIA CROWN PRINCE BIGAMIST, CHARGES PAPER

Had Legal Wife and Child When Wed to Greek Princess, Says Publisher.

By NEWTON C. PARKE,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, April 29.—That the crown prince, Carol, of Rumania, committed bigamy when he married the Princess Helene, daughter of King Constantine of Greece, is the sensational charge made by the Gazette de Lauzanne.

The Swiss newspaper declares that it can prove that the heir to the Rumanian throne never annulled his marriage to his former sweetheart, Jeanne Marie Valentine Lambrino, before he married the Greek princess. Furthermore, adds the newspaper, the Rumanian crown prince is the father of a baby boy, born to his first wife.

The love affair of Carol and Mlle Lambrino, daughter of a Rumanian general received but scant attention in the newspapers because it passed through a period when the war was engrossing public attention.

Prince Carol visited Mlle Lambrino nearly every evening at Jassy until his regiment was sent to the Moldavian mountains for the express purpose of breaking up the courtship. But Carol was determined to marry the general's daughter. Mlle Lambrino slipped away to Odessa incognito and alone. There, according to the Gazette de Lauzanne, the marriage was legally celebrated.

Oakland Political Notes

Before a meeting at the East Oakland headquarters of the Hempstead-Anderson committee last night W. J. O'Neill, chairman of the district, spoke on behalf of the candidates. This evening there will be a regular meeting at the Broadway headquarters of the Hempstead-Anderson Central Club. Senator Anderson, H. T. Hempstead, Frank Barnet, J. Freitas, J. C. Holland and others will make short talks on the issues of the campaign. Last night H. T. Hempstead spoke in behalf of himself and Senator Anderson at the K. of P. entertainment, the Y. L. I. at Jennie Lind hall, at St. Andrew's hall in North Oakland and at the Arcadia.

The Retail Drug Clerks' union of Alameda county, at a meeting last night in the Pacific building, endorsed the candidacy of Hempstead and Anderson for City Commissioners.

Albert E. Carter and Frank Colbourn, candidates for Commissionership No. 1 and No. 2, closed a busy day last night by addressing a meeting of the Spanish-American War Veterans in Memorial hall. Earlier in the day they made a tour of the waterfront, and at noon addressed a big meeting of the employees of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's main plant. Carter and Colbourn also toured the West Oakland business district. Everywhere they met with a hearty reception. Last evening a meeting of the East Oakland supporters of Colbourn and Carter was held at Judge Wise's court room, 609 East Twelfth street, and plans were made for an active fight in each of East Oakland's 37 precincts. Many of the supporters of I. H. Spiro were present and pledged themselves to do what they could for the Colbourn-Carter ticket. A. Miller acted as chairman and W. H. Shurvill, secretary.

The public schools welfare committee, which is in charge of the campaign for Eugene A. Young and George W. Hatch for school directors, announced today that many endorsements are being received for these candidates. Mrs. May Samuels, who received more than 4000 votes at the primaries, has announced that she will support Young and Hatch. A large gathering of the leading club women and church women of Oakland met at the Hotel Oakland yesterday, and were addressed by Young upon the importance of having men of experience and ability on the board of education because of the millions of dollars handled by the board. Young was present at the installation of officers of the Santa Fe Mothers' Club, and last night he and Hatch addressed a meeting at the home of Romaine Myers in Elmhurst.

FURS BAG STOLEN

A mink fur collar, fur cape and a gladstone bag were stolen from the apartment of Mrs. Frank Shearer, 204 East Sixteenth street. Mrs. Shearer reported the case to the police last night. The property is valued at several hundred dollars.

AKS LOOKED GOOD IN THE FIELD EVEN IF THEY FAILED TO HIT SHOOTS OF SHELLENBACH

HELLENBACH SHOWED THE OAKS A FLOSSY LINE OF PITCHING

ocals Did Some Fancy Fielding, But They Couldn't Make Good On the Paths.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The Oaks dropped their second game to the Vernon Tigers, but those who were game enough to pay to sit in that hot sun and watch the ks take their medicine were treated to more than value for their ney. They saw the Oaks pull off one of the fastest triple plays with ity of action in it that has ever been seen in the Coast League. Frank ellenback, the Vernon pitcher, hoisted a fair ball over the left field wall Buz Arlett in the ninth inning, and if memory serves right, Schellenn is the only pitcher to perform that feat at the local park. They saw Oaks get men on the bags time after time only to have the rally nipped ne bud, and one of those times was in the ninth inning when the bags e loaded with none out. Those fans who like to "call" the umpire hoarse themselves hoarse at McGrew, who called a few decisions against Oaks that reminded one of the eleven eggs a mother sent her boy back re store with after breaking the first of the dozen.

he final score was 7 to 2 and there e plenty of fans who went home king that the Oaks would have the game if they were managing team. Some of them couldn't see Harry Krause went to bat in- d of Ted Cather for "Socks" Sei- l in the seventh frame. There e some who wondered why "Buz" tt was again allowed to take the with his sore arm. And last of they wondered why a pinch hitter n't go to bat for the Oaks in the if when the bags were full with out. But who they expected e one to pinch hit for we don't w, as Claude Cooper, Hack Mil- and Jack Knight were the next ers in order. Cooper had driven ne a run for the Oaks with a hit a couple of innings before, and ier and Knight were overdue for it. The reason that Mitze used use instead of Cather was that he ired Harry might start something, then he could use Cather to drive ners home.

ellenback Was Too uch in the Pinches.

ut the whole reason for the Oaks' at was the pitching of Frank ellenback, the big kid hurler who ry last year refused to be an Oak ause he wanted to play with the ers who were nearer his home n. Schellenback allowed plenty runners to get on the paths but was as cool as a big league vet- n when he was in trouble. He the Oaks helpless in the pinches. if you don't think so, just take eek at the records of Hack Miller Jack Knight. Miller was unable get the ball out of the infield, le Knight got it out but once, a to centerfield.

he Tigers won the game in the t inning when they got to Seibold three runs. Harry started his n trouble by walking Edington o was first to bat. Eddy advanced High's sacrifice and scored on neider's double to the left field ce. "Ham" Hyatt and both run- s advanced on Seibold's bad throw trying to catch Pete off second. d" Smith drove them both home h a hit to center. French forced ith at second, and was caught off it.

mpire McGrew Has a d Day Calling 'Em.

Three singles in a row by White, nelli and Koehler after one was gave the Oaks their first run in second. Seibold flew to center. nny Willie hit a grounder down the st base line which was foul by at st a foot. It appeared as though mpire McGrew waved his hand and o shouted "foul," but when Umpire son on the bases called Willie out, Grew said the ball was fair. Even me of the Vernon players laughed the decision, and from that time on fans had a wonderful time pann- McGrew who was last season reckoned as good as any "guesser" in the league.

McGrew was again the center when all the Oaks dashed to the plate in the fourth inning when McGrew called White out at the plate on a fielder's choice when it appeared that he slid safely under Catcher Murphy. White doubled, advanced to third on Pinelli's sacrifice and tried to score on Koehler's fielder's choice. All the close decisions broke against the Oaks yesterday and McGrew gave a couple of bad ones against them the day before at San Francisco.

The Tigers went after Seibold in real fashion in the sixth and gathered their other three runs. Smith was out at the plate trying to score on French's bounder to Pinelli. Harry Seibold did some umpiring by waving Hyatt out, probably to show McGrew how to call an out.

Arlett appeared on the hill for the Oaks in the eighth and although he walked Smith and French reached first on Knight's error, Buz got out of trouble by fanning Gorman and himself grabbing Murphy's bonder to turn it into a double play. In the ninth, Schellenback was the first to face Buz and he hit the first ball pitched for a homer over the left field wall. The next three batters went out in order.

Schellenback was some wild in the ninth and walked the first three batters, but Cooper hit into a double play to kill the best chance for a rally.

Champions Are Gathering for Penn. Relays

500 Organizations Are Represented Today At Philadelphia.

By JACK VEIOCK
International News Service Sports Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29.—Athletes, greater and smaller, representing 500 schools and colleges throughout the country, are gathered here today for the twenty-seventh annual running of the historic Penn relays.

More than 3000 performers on track and field from all parts of the country, including a team representative of the best in France, will vie for honors on Franklin field today and tomorrow.

Records may be shattered before the meet comes to an end. More than a score of athletes who represented the United States in the Olympic games at Antwerp will be seen in action here. Three Olympic winners of gold medals—Dick Landon, high jumper of Yale; Allen Woodring, winner of the two-hundred meter event, and Earl Thompson of Dartmouth, who competed for Canada but who was looked upon as an "American," will burn up the cinders if the weather clears up.

There will be other stars of the American Olympic team in the relays. Harold Barron of Penn State, who finished second to Thompson in Antwerp in the 120-yard high hurdles, will compete against the Dartmouth star once again. Shea of Pittsburg, who placed in the quarter-mile; Ed Curtis of the navy, in the mile, and Jenne from Washington, star pole vaulter, will perform.

The weather early today was misty with promise of a gloomy and rainy afternoon.

PREP SCHOOLS FIRST

Today's program was largely taken up by prep and high school events, but there were several major classics scheduled.

The American college championship sprint medley relay and the two-mile championship together with the pentathlon and the final in the 440-yard event were the collegiate features on the program.

On the championship medley relay, Ohio State, Lafayette, Penn State, Nebraska, Carnegie Tech, University of Paris, Maine, Missouri, Kansas Aggies, Pennsylvania, Pittsburg, Chicago, Minnesota, Princeton and Georgetown were entered.

The two-mile race with Nightingale of West Virginia the favorite because of his brilliant victory in the three-mile event of last year; Romig of Penn State; Higgins of Columbia and several other distance men who have been performing with brilliance this spring was expected to furnish a real race.

The distance medley relay race with the best that Wisconsin, Iowa State, Illinois, Kansas Aggies, Pittsburg, Syracuse, Princeton, Penn State, the Navy, Yale, Columbia, Delaware and Georgetown have to offer, promise to be a real contest. The Navy incidentally is competing in the relays for the first time with a team of sixteen men.

The 56-pound weight and running hop, step and jump were special events on today's card.

Livermore's Favorite Pastime

Fooling around the business end of a wild horse is no job for a happily married man, but your average cowboy thinks nothing of it. Here is a picture of one of the untamed broncos trying to slip his former rider a pair of hind feet. Most of the riders are "former" when they seek to remain aboard "Cyclone." The cowboy says he will have his picture made sitting in the saddle Sunday.

Murchio Sends 18 To Bench On Strikes

The Bay Point nine easily defeated the Martinez team in the Three "C" League, the score being 13 to 1. The winners gathered 17 hits. Higgins was the best with four out of five, one for a triple. Murchio allowed but three hits and fanned 18. The score:

JACK ROBERTSON TO CAPTAIN U. C. SWIMMERS.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 29.—Jack Robertson, junior student registering from Napa, was yesterday elected Varsity swimming captain for 1922. Robertson was declared to be ineligible for competition during the past season on account of being a transfer from St. Mary's. He is one of the most versatile swimmers ever enrolled at the Blue and Gold institution since the days of Lady Langer, and is expected to have a record-breaking season with the Bears next year. Robertson is also a crack water polo player.

Who'll Win.

(By United Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., April 29.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world:

"It will go the limit. I don't look for a knockout. I'll be pulling for Dempsey to win, but I'm afraid he is up against the stiffest opponent he ever has faced. This Carpentier can hit and he is clever, no matter what some people think.

COWBOYS TO COMPETE SUNDAY; GALLOPERS ARRIVE AT PLEASANTON

Bucking Broncs and Wild Bulls Will Give the Crowds At Livermore Some Thrills.

By BOB SHAND.

Playing jockey with a wild male cow and clamping a Strangler Lewis headlock on the behorned head of a peeved cow's husband is not everybody's idea of having a good time, but any time they advertise anything like this the cash customers attend in large and paying numbers. That's why they are holding Rodeo try-outs at Livermore Sunday afternoon and that is also the reason the Chevys and Henrys and Duck 'ems and other gas vehicles will be cranked up Sabbath morn and headed for the Alameda county cow metropolis.

Every year they give a Rodeo at Livermore and the entertainment has proved such a success that the ground used for the show and the equipment has been practically paid for. In the past a little difficulty was experienced in getting enough real "wild" horses to test the agility and courage of the cowboys. "Cyclone" and "Fuzzy" and other dead tough equines gave the ride 'em gents a good battle, but the stockmen felt that equally "bad" nags were running loose somewhere in the valley and they decided to round 'em up. That's the other reason for the Sunday show in the eastern end of the county.

In order to attract the best riders and the "worst" horses substantial prizes have been hung up by the promoters. In addition to the usual rewards there will be special awards for everycowboy that rides some of the broncos. Jumping Josephine, the nag that gave the cowboys a swell time at the 1920 Rodeo, is out at the lot during somebody to saddle her. It is worth real dough to get a hitch on this baby so the saddling act will not be attempted until the customers have passed through the turnstile Sunday and the arena is cleared for action.

The Frager Brothers of Sunol, who own some of the finest horseflesh in the state, have rounded up fifty horses for the big show, and as the entries do not close until Saturday night they expect another big batch of nags to be in the opening parade.

In addition to taming the wild equines the cowboys will hold running races with their broncos and the cowgirls will try to out-do the men in urging the ponies to pick 'em up and lay 'em down real fast.

The best of the bucking ponies and the cleverest riders, ropers and lariat throwers will be eligible to compete in the big Rodeo to be staged July 2, 3 and 4 at the Livermore grounds.

While the bucking horses are being shipped to Livermore a number of more docile animals are arriving at Pleasanton today for the ten-day running meet to be staged at the Pleasanton plant of Rod J. McKenzie. Superintendent Matt O'Brien announces this morning that a number of stake horses from Tijuana would compete for the valuable purses to be hung up by the Pleasanton promoters, and he has the promise of several hundred selling platers from the Lower California track. Six or more running races and a harness event will be staged every afternoon except Sunday. The meeting will open May 14. O'Brien has a big crew of men laying new top dressing on the track and he promises to have the plant in excellent condition for the meeting. Some of the classy Spreckels two-year-olds will be seen in the baby races and McKenzie expects to start the cream of his own stable, both gallopers and trotters.

At a special meeting of the Pleasanton Jockey Club held late last evening officials for the ten-day meet were chosen. The names of a score of well-known horsemen were offered and after long consideration the following were named:

OREGON UNIVERSITY IS PEEVED AT ACTIONS OF THE BERKELEY BRUINS

Wants U.C. to Pay Attention to Coast Meeting to Exclusion of Eastern Contests.

By DOUG MONTELL

An interesting question is brought to light in the "Oregon Emerald," the student publication of the University of Oregon, which, editorially, speaks on the subject of coast athletics. A broad subject, but which in its discussion by the Oregon paper narrows down to a matter of interest to those who follow athletics in this section of the Pacific Coast Conference. The University of California, particularly those who have charge of the athletic affairs of the State University, come in for a lion's share of the criticism directed against the present policy being followed in athletics in the West

The whole matter comes to pass on account of the decision, or lack of decision, on the part of California as regards participation in the Pacific Coast Conference track and field championships to be held at Eugene, Oregon on May 21 Not that the Oregon athletes are greatly concerned about the fact that California may not win this event on account of the trip planned by the Bruin track men to the East prior to that date but the Oregon attitude is clear on one point, that the decision of California is not popular among other of the coast institutions

Commenting on California's athletic policy which may or may not be the correct thing, the Oregon paper declares that California is forcing coast teams to take a back seat and that these teams are being shoved down on account of "a dictatorial policy assumed by the Berkeley officials" Considerable breadth to that statement, but it does show that the University of Oregon is not entirely in sympathy with the policy of the Bears in seeking new fields to conquer Just how strongly Oregon feels about California's position is expressed in the following editorial

Thinks California Is Condescending.

'California won the football and basketball championships of the coast this year Having defeated almost everything in sight down south it seems California is going to take the coast championship in track and baseball for granted Just now it looks as if California would not enter the coast conference track meet to be held here on May 21 The California team is going east after larger game It seems and the coast championship isn't worth considering anyway if one is to accept the point of view of the southern institution

"Every so often a new report comes from Berkeley announcing some sort of an athletic competition with large eastern schools The Michigan track meet, the Harvard national championships the projected baseball trip the attempts to obtain football games with eastern teams—these are examples of the policy being followed by California All this time other coast teams are being shoved down forced to take a back seat because of the dictatorial policy assumed by the Berkeley officials Stanford possibly may be excepted because of the nearness of the two schools and the traditional rivalry But it is not to be expected that a small school like Stanford can long follow in the footsteps of California, even should she wished to do so

"It is even rumored that California may condescend to send her second string track men to the coast conference meet It is also rumored that such games as the Oregon-California football game at Berkeley next fall are to be billed as mere practice games'

Oregon Delegates Scrapped Schedule.

Quite interesting in fact some mouthful especially coming as it does from the University of Oregon Followers of coast athletics remember well that it was Oregon who, last season, scrapped the 1922 football schedule which had been drawn up by conference delegates It was Oregon's football coach Shy Huntington, who sent word south by the Oregon representatives last year not to California under any consideration At that time California was considered too good for Oregon and the Lemon-Yellow desired to avoid a game with the Bruin football team Consequently the schedule was scrapped, but subsequently representatives from California and Oregon got together and booked an Oregon-California game at Berkeley for October 22 It was this action on the part of Oregon that caused a near split of the conference and which coined the Big Three of Washington California and Stanford Why if Oregon is such an ardent supporter of coast athletics, did the University of Oregon remain outside on such a deal?

As regards the topic of current interest, the conference track meet it is quite true that California has maintained a great silence regarding the plans of the Bears as to participation California has an obligation in the I C A A A A on account of her membership and in order to make a showing at this big event it is necessary that the Bears take their best men east It is impossible to have the same set of men compete in Eugene, Oregon, on May 21 and immediately make the jump to Harvard stadium to compete on May 27 It isn't being done this season It might also be noted that Stanford has made no decision about entering the w k conference meet Whether the Bears and Cards do or do not enter teams at the Eugene event, it is not the position or place of Oregon to tell California what she shall or shall not do in the east on equal terms The resumption of athletics with the University of Michigan is a step forward and if California is able in the future to schedule football games, either on the coast or in the east, it is a step in the right direction It is far from the intended policy of California as outlined by Graduate Manager Nichols, to ignore other coast teams but as California is the largest institution of the coast conference it is not right that they should merely play the part of a star attraction to increase gate receipts at Oregon when an opportunity presents itself to try conclusions on eastern fields with the best in the country California's attitude has been misinterpreted by Oregon but the threat contained in the editorial of severing athletic relations would be a move on the part of Oregon to cut off one's nose to spite its face

Big Chance for the Bears in the East.

The time has come when the west has an opportunity to meet the best

In the Big Leagues

Bill Piercy, former Vernon Tiger pitcher, took the hill for the New York Yankees yesterday and won his game 9 to 5, at the same time putting a stop to the winning streak of the Washington club

Piercy got three hits for the Yankees two of them being doubles Roger Peckinpaugh got a double and single, while Bodie and Meusel went hitless, and Ruth hit one

Olak Erickson relieved Zachery in the box for Washington but the damage was already done and Zachery got charged with the defeat

Duffy Lewis got a hit and scored two runs for the Senators

Besides hitting a triple and double for the New York Giants, George Kelly the San Francisco boy, played a wonderful game at first base and was on the tail end of two double plays Ruth is having a tough time holding the limelight with Kelly hitting as he is

In spite of Kelly's good work the Giants lost 2 to 1 But it was no difference to the California fans as long as Kelly did his share of work and 'Dutch Ruether was the pitcher who beat the Giants

Oscar Vitt played a perfect game at third, scored two runs and got a double for the Red Sox, who beat the Athletics 6 to 2

'Dutch" Leonard and Bert (Smile) Cole were given that big pounding by the Cleveland Indians Every Indian got one or more hits

Pep Young and Johnny Bassler went hitless for the Tigers while Heilman and Jones each hit one

Jimmy Johnston got a hit and scored a run for the Dodgers

Loule Fonseca failed to get a hit for Cincinnati—the Cincy boys didn't play

Ralph Miller and Lee Meadows of the Phillies hit homers with the bases full, giving Philadelphia an overwhelming victory at the expense of the Braves Cy Williams added a lone homer to the Philly total

The Indians set a season's record for hits and runs against Detroit with 23 hits and 18 runs Uhle pitched for the winners and made a home run with the bases full

Dutch Reuther's pitching was too much for the Giants and though the Dodgers made but four hits they managed to make it four straight over New York George Kelly added a double and a triple to his season's total

The pitching of Joe Bush and Elmer Meyers of the Red Sox was too strong for the Athletics, though Frank Walter contributed a home run to Philadelphia's total

A triple steal by Rice, Lewis and Harris featured the Yankee-Senator game, but the Yanks broke a losing streak with Piercy pitching

100-to-6 Shot Wins English Racing Classic

NEWMARKET, England, April 29—The two thousand guineas, one of the classics of the British turf, was won here today by Craig An Eran Lemonora finished second and Humorist third The Two Thousand Guineas was for colts and fillies Craig An Eran is owned by Lord Astor The odds on the winner were 100 to 6, on Lemonora 100 to 7, and on Humorist 3 to 1

That triple play which the Oaks pulled in the fourth inning against the Tigers was well worth the price of admission The bags were jammed when Murphy hit a fast bounder at Al White The Oak second sacker shot the ball home ahead of Smith coming in from third, and Koehler's throw beat Murphy to first for the second out. French, who has been showing a lot of pep with the Tigers tried to score as Koehler shot the ball to first, and Knight's throw was just quick and perfect enough to let Koehler get French on the slide to the plate Every play on the part of the Oaks had to be perfect to get the men, and they sure were

Schellenback got three hits for the Tigers His infield hit, which scored two runners in the sixth was to deep short, and Brubaker didn't have any time to waste so his throw to first was too wide and Knight was pulled off the sack

The fans are seeing some fast baseball played by the Oaks and Tigers this week Wednesday they were treated to five double plays and yesterday they saw a triple and two double plays

After the way that Umpire McGrew called a couple yesterday the Oaks are not entirely to blame for their own defeat

Koehler hit a single that scored White in the second, and it is lucky that he did, for he had three balls and no strikes called on him when he swung at the ball.

Billy Lane got a hit and stole another sack at Seattle yesterday

Tub" Spencer hit three out of three for the Rainiers, and Billy Cunningham hit a pair of doubles

Willie Kamm, who was suffering with a bad sore throat the first few games of the Angels-Seals series was forced to stay out of the line-up yesterday

A month ago "Lefty" O'Doul was hailed as the brightest star on the Seals but now he looks like the weakest

O'Doul lasted one-third of an inning against the Angels

After making three boots, Marty McGaffigan redeemed himself by getting a hit and scoring the winning run for the Senators, who defeated the Beavers 4 to 3 in nineteen innings

Marty Krug handled fourteen chances around second base for the Beavers without a boot.

COYOTES DEFEAT BEAVERS IN 19TH FRAME.

PORTLAND April 29—In the longest contest of the season here the Sacramento Coyotes tacked a 4 to 3 defeat on Walter McCredie's Beavers The winning run was scored in the nineteenth frame when McGaffigan got a single advanced on a sacrifice stole third and scored on Mollowitz's bunt The game was full of sensational fielding by the outfielders and infielders Wolfer Genin and Ryan made some spectacular catches in the outfield McCreane used four pitchers while Rodgers used Faeth and Prough

CARESSING is the touch of April breezes, which frolic with the spring birds in the sky. As lilting is the spirit of the one who wanders forth in a frock as alluring as the springtime dress of Mother Earth, to meet the one SHE loves. Red as the cherries on her perky hat are the lips from which she wafts a kiss of welcome—elusive and yet as tender as the breeze's touch—with a gesture which reserves more than it bestows. Half-closed are her eyes—as if she would hide their exquisite tenderness.

CHEERFUL SERVICE

The...is the path to glory, this is the road to fame,
Clean hands after the toil of day and a record free from shame,
For he who comes home in honor is building a worthy name.

And whether the task be mighty that unto man's lot shall fall,
Or one of the humbler duties, or the prize be great or small,
In the court where all men are tested, shall matter not at all.

The great and the low must answer, at last when life's sands are run,
Not by the gold they gathered and not by the laurels won,
For the road to eternal glory is only by work well done

And those whom the world will honor, must face it with heads erect,
Must spurn all the crooked byways and keep to the path direct,
For cheerful and manly service is the way to the world's respect.

Letters of Terrie & Joe

DEAR JOE:

I came near winning a quarter yesterday. By that I mean to say, I would have won it if I'd won the bet instead of losing it. Or rather I didn't quite lose it, either. But I better explain the whole thing to you before I start to sound conflicting.

You see, Mrs. Fink was over, and we started to talk about raising little vegetable patches this summer, and from that the conversation drifted naturally to geography in general, and I casually dropped a remark about Buenos Aires being in Cuba. Whereupon Mrs. Fink laughed diabolically and said Buenos Aires was no more in Cuba than I was, and I offered to bet her a quarter that Cuba was the very place it was.

Well, she took me up, Joe, and I got down the dictionary and opened to the map in the back, and whether it was a new map or not I don't know, but anyway it showed Buenos Aires as being in South America of all places! Of course I wouldn't put my bare word against a printed map in a copyrighted dictionary, but I wasn't going to be such a poor sport as to give up without a struggle, so I says, "Well," I says, "it looks as if we both lose, because you didn't say anything about it being in South America. All you said was that it wasn't in Cuba, and you can't win a bet by saying where a thing's not," I says. "You got to be definite where betting is concerned," I says.

Well, Joe, I never thought Mrs. Fink could be such a poor sport. She insisted that the only question was whether it was in Cuba or not, and that South America had nothing to do with it, although I opened the dictionary ten times and showed her how South America entered in. So I compromised on going out with her when she left and buying her a soda. I really owed her a treat, anyway, so after all there are no bones broken.

CRY on Geraldine's SHOULDER

The fact that this is as much a man's column as a woman's comes as a surprise to many Here is one of the letters which show that the Sterner Sex have a few thoughts to share also There are a great many things to think about in this letter. I have only answered one of the queries I am not sure that there is an answer to some of them Think it over—and then tell us what you think

Dear Geraldine: Have been reading your columns more or less with something of a smile and sometimes a frown I believe the goal you are struggling for is to get together and keep together souls who are tied together or are contemplating being tied with matrimonial bonds Now if that be the case I think it proper that we discuss the problems that go to mold our lives for better or for worse.

If the sailing were smooth all of the time there would be no need for your columns Have heard more or less discussion about living on a stipulated salary, etc How about the man without employment, that would be glad to have a chance to earn a living, but is refused from day to day, when there are others working two shifts in order to get more gold? Don't you think some of us would like to get one of those shifts? What induces the employer to bring about these conditions? Have been rather observant in regards to foreign-born people and their sympathizers who make their livelihood here and at the same time boost for their native land Now, dear Jerry, do you think that such treacherous people are entitled to more consideration than American-born citizens, who can produce records of ancestors who have fought for their rights and our rights in all the early wars of this country?

I dislike to say it but it appears to be a fact that the would-be enemy of our country seems to be getting the best of it all along the line. A few I know personally who seemed to try the hardest to play for the enemy, have come into possession of good positions during and after the war Did they deserve it? Personally I think there are many who escaped just punishment I often think what a pity we can't work on merit instead of having to use some lodge or other organization to pull us along When we see a fellow step up and through a crowd with a certain kind of lodge pin and get recognition when others have stood for hours waiting for a chance to ask for a job, it starts us to wondering about the fellow who can't afford or doesn't care to join such orders

No, dear friends, I'm not the pessimist you are thinking about, but am still optimistic, after going through many disappointing experiences. Yes, I can hear some one ask, why don't they go in business? Many a good man is handicapped with a large family, sickness or misfortune, and can't afford to take a chance on losing the little home or the little savings account

Now, Jerry, I believe the plan you are trying to carry out is to keep the family together To do that we must be given a chance to make a livelihood and must interest ourselves more in the need of a change in our economic conditions

We read every day of a series of robberies committed Why is it? Every one knows and admits he knows that it is due mostly to unemployment The cry is then, more police protection to put down crime, but after that is done, it goes on just the same. Let us be sensible and admit it is better to remedy the cause by giving everyone a chance to earn an honorable living. This would have its double effect by decreasing police protection and cutting down taxes at the same time.

JINKS.

Americans and Americans

First, that man signed his name and address, which I am withholding, and it is a SINCERE argument, whether you agree with it or not

I am for America, but what are Americans? The literal minded will say—Indians People from every country have come to the United States for freedom, for opportunity, and have been assimilated, but I don't think it has always been done in one generation.

I'm such a "reasonable" person all the time that for the moment I am going to relapse into pure sentiment, and in a heart throb I think will be found the reason for the "disloyal" foreigner you complain of Transplant me to Spain, Italy, France—anywhere—and even if I could earn more money there than here I think MY HEART WOULD YEARN FOR MY NATIVE LAND

That's just sentiment—I'll admit it, but it gives an understanding of how the other fellow feels

The Boys Who Fought

And here's another letter concerning some of the conditions which now confront us.

Dear Geraldine: I am writing to you, Jerry, to get your views on this subject Saturday, which is the day I wrote this letter to you my wife and I were down town and there sitting on the corner was a poor sailor lad with both legs off at the knee The poor fellow had his cap held out and it made my wife and I feel very sad to see such a fine young fellow doing such a thing, as we know it would probably have gone against his grain had he both of his legs back again. The question is, is there not some way to furnish employment to poor fellows in such a condition? If not, I should think there should be The majority of fellows would and should have employment, where they could be like other people and be more independent, especially the sailor and soldier boys I am not writing this because I am a grouch, but because I think people should look into this.

The boys who fought for us "Over There" and came back crippled and cannot get a job because they are crippled is not a good advertisement for the Army or Navy.

Listen, World!

I know a man who can do almost anything with people Without seeming effort he molds people and events to his advantage and nearly always to their own He used his great power kindly, yet he has many enemies who envy him and make sneering remarks about his "luck" It isn't luck

That man is able to do things because he believes absolutely in what he is doing He is using the most dynamic force at the disposal of man —faith

We can do almost anything we wish with people and life if we're not afraid—even evil things The sinner who has faith in his convictions can "put it all over" the saint who isn't quite sure of his own mind The reason that most of us have limited power over others is that we have limited faith in ourselves. We're always 'holding out" on ourselves—trying to put over our plans with secret reservations as to whether they will work, whether people will do as we wish.

It's just like broncho breaking If you go at the job with fear in your heart, you're going to land on your neck You MUST believe that you're the better animal of the two You MUST believe that it's good for the broncho to be broken You MUST believe that you can break him If you have quietly and firmly settled these things in your own mind, the rest is simply a matter of hanging on

You can't "break" life or people until you arrive at these same conclusions with yourself When you have arrived at them, however, there will be no more failures or delays. You'll be bound to win.

I am writing this to you because I feel so very sorry for these fellows and I think that putting this letter in the paper might wake up some of the people of this city Lots of folks say, Oh! they make a good deal more money than we do, but if they would take a look at the fellow's pocketbook, I am sure it would make them think. I would very much like to have your opinion on this, Jerry

Yours truly,
J M KICKER.

My opinion, Pal, is that I'd give every one of them the finest job in the land if I only could—and my everlasting gratitude and friendship for all they did for us It makes my heart ache too to see them so

A Married Man's Love

Dear Geraldine Several years ago I met a young married couple and happened to be thrown in contact with them quite often I liked them both and felt sorry for the fact that they quarreled and disagreed about everything in general Mr C I admired very much because of his interest and cleverness in his work, also other qualities, the fact that he was well read and talented musically

Then one day he gave me the surprise of my life by declaring his love for me. I told him that I had always admired him and valued his friendship, but any other thought had never entered my mind. I said it was impossible, that he should not think of me in that way because he was married

He said his life with his wife was utterly miserable, that their ideas of life were totally different, and his only happiness was in the thought that some day in the future he would be free to win my love and make me his wife. From then on I could not see him or have the same unrestrained friendly feeling toward him, but it did not enter my consciousness that I loved him in return for some time I felt happy about it at times and then again when I thought seriously I was very unhappy

Some months later he asked me if I did not love him a little and I said yes Feeling the way I did I could no longer accept friendship and hospitality of his wife without feeling myself a hypocrite, so I went away I have not seen nor heard from him for almost a year, but I cannot forget him

I have heard since from friends of theirs that they quarrel constantly and although he has tried in every way to convince her that it would be best to separate she will not consent, but evidently prefers to be like the dog in the manger making him miserable, and has even gone so far as to threaten his life Also that he has become indifferent to his work, which was once a vital part of him, the keenest enjoyment of his life.

It is a great pity his friends say that a man with such wonderful possibilities should lose interest in everything and I cannot entirely understand him either, but my heart aches for him

Geraldine I have gotten in and worked hard and my only happiness has been in my work I have met other good and worthy men who have offered me love and marriage whom perhaps I could learn to love but there is always the hope that some day in the future the man I love will be free

There, Jerry, is my problem. I know you are just and will tell me the truth fully what you think of it, even though it hurts

An admirer of your worthy work

It's Up to Him

Dear Girl, you have answered your own problem with all nobility I can add no better word The hardest, bitterest task in all the world is to stand aside and let someone we love walk alone through the shadows. Yet there is truly nothing else you can do It's up to him Somehow I just blindly trust that the love we give them is not wasted—that some way it finds its way through to their needs and comforts I am deeply sorry for your pain—will you feel Jerry's hand on yours, Pal?

Love and Scrapping

Dear Jerry

Would you please inform me whether love is synonymous with "scrapping?" My girl friend admits she's wild about her boy friend (both in their teens) who calls not less than twice a week Yet she insists that there is only friendship between them, but at the same time her actions and talk indicate that she's either "head over heels" in love with him or else she's afflicted with some manner of "midsummer or spring madness"

Every time he calls they have a "tiff" about something and it's never safe to inquire about him because they may be on their "two weeks mad at each other" riot. Each one declares they will not speak again, but in a few days everything is "honey and sugar" again Now this conduct does not appeal to me at all. In the first place if they are not engaged why do they keep steady company? And in the second place such courtship (if that constitutes courtship (if that constitutes in the least

Now what I want to ask you, is real courtship permeated with jealousy, quarreling, nonsense and all the other foolish things that such people give one to believe by such actions? If it is, then I certainly can't view it (as I always thought it must be) as being in the least ideal and suppose I'll not "be one of them."

Wishing you success in your work, and may God bless you
PEACEMAKER.

"Real courtship" is just like a choice of neckties or salads, my dear. Everyone to his own taste Some like 'em nippy and noisy—some like 'em quiet and orderly That's why it never pays to interfere in domestic affairs, either before or after the marriage ceremony Certain couples simply demand some rowing Life would lose all its savor without it and without the subsequent "making up" To others the incessant bickering would mean agony Let 'em rave girl, if they want to You don't need to use tobasco sauce unless you like it

Uncle Wiggily Stories

By Howard R. Garis

"Oh good luck! Good luck!" barked the fox.

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BILLIE'S TOP.

Once upon a time hopping through the woods Uncle Wiggily reached a place where some green ferns grew in clumps around a dingly dell, and he heard a voice reciting this little verse

'Going through this woods one day.
I chanced to pass this very way
Go up fast and come down slow,
Tell me where my top did go'"

Next there sounded a noise as if something had fallen through the leaves of a bush, thudding on the ground near the bunny

'I hope no one is throwing stones at me" said Uncle Wiggily "And yet this is a stone surely enough," and he looked at what had fallen

Mr Longears was just going to hop away thinking that perhaps the Woozie Wolf might have taken a notion to write poetry (which is very bad for a wolf), when all of a sudden, Billie Bushytail, the squirrel brother of Johnnie, came scrabbling through the bushes

"Is it there Uncle Wiggily?" chattered the squirrel boy eagerly, as he saw the bunny gentleman

'Do you mean the stone that dropped almost on my tall silk hat?" asked the bunny "Yes it's here And I'm glad to know that you threw it, and not the Wolf for I know you weren't trying to hit me"

'Oh, I should say not" exclaimed Billie. "But that was only a searcher stone I threw"

"A searcher stone!" exclaimed the bunny 'What is that?

"I wanted the stone to search for my top,' went on the Bushytail chap "I lost my top a little while ago, Uncle Wiggily when I was running through the woods and I can't find it anywhere So I sent a searcher stone after it But this one doesn't seem to have found my top,' and Billie looked around near where the pebble had fallen No toy top was in sight

'Will you tell me about a searcher stone?" asked Uncle Wiggily

"Oh, it's just this way," went on Billie When you lose anything you pick up a stone and you say a little verse You can recite the one I did or another like this

"Stone, stone, fly up high,
Maybe almost to the sky
When again you touch the ground
Right there my toy may be found"

'Hum," said Uncle Wiggily "That's a nice little verse, but does it do any good?"

"Well, sometimes when you chuck a stone over your shoulder it falls just where you lost what you are looking for and you can find it," the squirrel boy said "But this time it didn't. I'm going to try again"

Billie threw more stones around, but none of them landed near his lost top, and he was beginning to feel that he would never see it again, when Uncle Wiggily said

"I'll make you a top, Billie"

"Oh, will you" cried the squirrel boy Please do"

The bunny gentleman found a round ball off the sycamore or buttonball tree Through the brown ball Uncle Wiggily thrust a stick, which he gnawed to a point on one end with his sharp teeth

"There is a top for you" said Mr Longears to the squirrel boy, and when Billie wound a string around it and snapped it to the ground, the button ball top spun and whizzed and hummed as nicely as a piece of cheese

"Don't you want to try to spin the top you made for me" asked the squirrel boy of Mr Longears

"Well, as long as Nurse Jane isn't here to say that I am getting young in my old age playing with children's toys, "I'll spin the top," said the bunny

He wound it up and set it spinning And while Uncle Wiggily and Billie were listening to the hum of the top, all of a sudden out from behind a sassafras bush hopped the Fuzzy Fox

"Oh, good luck! Good luck!" barked the fox, "I shall have ears to nibble now!" and he looked straight at Uncle Wiggily

Billie, the squirrel, stooped down and picked up a large stone. As he tossed this into the air he recited this verse.

"Stone, stone, now's your chance
To make this Fox do a jiggily dance.
Tap him on his tender nose.
Make him stand on his tip toes!"

Up went the searching stone, and when it came down it found its way to the end of the nose of the Fox, giving him a most hearty bang.

"Hi there!" howled the bad chap "What's the idea?"

"The idea is for you to let Uncle Wiggily alone!" answered Billie. 'Skip along, now, or I'll throw more stones!" And away ran the Fox, not getting a single nibble off Uncle Wiggily's ears

"I'm glad I practiced throwing stones to find my top,' said the squirrel boy, as he thanked the bunny. Mr. Longears was glad, also; and if the baby carriage doesn't run in the mud puddle and gets its wheels all paint, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Susie's kite.

SUNDAY RODEO ROUSES WRATH OF DOMINEES

MODESTO, April 29.—Every minister in this city has signed a protest against permitting the rodeo and horse show next Sunday. The resolution asks the city fathers to enact an ordinance which will prohibit such spectacles and which "will redeem this community from this shameful stigma." "We base our protest upon the ground that the proposed rodeo, in our judgment, is brutal to dumb animals as well as brutalizing to the participants, a pagan assault upon the Christian Sabbath, an affront to the moral and religious standards of our community and a blot upon the fair name of our beautiful city." Further the resolution protests the holding of an airplane and motorcycle meet on Sunday for the benefit of the Salvation Army. "We trust that this affair has been arranged without the knowledge or consent of the Salvation Army," says the protest.

Foch Is New Name for Yankee Babies

PARIS, April 29.—Marshal Foch says that one of his great regrets is that he has not time enough to properly digest the big mail he receives. Like most men in his conspicuous position, he gets daily a batch of correspondence that keeps his aids busy, sifting the trivial and eccentric from the important and interesting.

Friends and enemies alike write him profusely and their letters run the whole gamut from ecstatic adulation to frenzied vituperation.

Mothers write him informing him they have named the finest baby in the world after him, and American fathers send word that they would have taken a good drink in his honor on some anniversary or other had not the United States gone dry.

WRIGHT NAMED PRESIDENT OF TITANS' CLUB

San Leandro Organization Schedules Activities for Summer Season.

SAN LEANDRO, April 29.—Tuesday night's election of officers by the Titan club here resulted in the selection of Melbourne "Buzz" Wright for the presidency of the organization, Myron Sherman for vice-president, Eddie Fraga, business manager, and J. . Bill as secretary-treasurer.

The newly elected heads of the Titans will assume their offices at an installation banquet to be held at the Paiss Farm Inn next Friday, May 7. The guests of honor will include Coaches Blesse and Stagner, who will give a short outline of the athletic program of the club for the next season. The Titans will commence practicing for the basketball contests of The TRIBUNE League about the first of August. Tennis schedules have been arranged to begin in the early part of June.

Rids for the coming "sport" dance to be held on the 14th of May, will be in the mails early next week, according to an announcement by the business manager, Eddie Fraga, today. The club is putting every effort into making the affair a banner occasion.

Rumors of special plans for the holidays coming at the end of May are also in the air. Some sort of an outing and entertainment for the club members and their friends will be arranged for those dates. The exact nature of the event will be announced at the installation of the officers' meeting next week.

On account of the recent hot spell a great many letters have been received by the committee in charge of the "sport" dance imploring them to retract their ruling which bars bathing suits and track garments from the list of available costumes. In answer to their appeals the committee announced that there would be a large quantity of ice cold punch on hand to revive the dancers if the heat should prove too much.

Prince Banished 20 Years, Back in Peking

PEKING, April 29.—Return to Peking of Prince Tuan, after twenty years of exile from the capital for the leading part he played in the Boxer attack of 1900, has caused much comment in foreign circles and has impelled the dean of the diplomatic corps to call attention of the government to the terms of the protocol of 1901. That document decreed for Tuan perpetual banishment and imprisonment in Turkestan, but, it appears, he never was banished nor imprisoned. He resides in Kansu.

Recently Tuan returned to Peking, ostensibly to bring the bodies of some of his relatives for burial. Government officials allege his coming was without their knowledge or permission and it is further asserted he has already left for Mukden, headquarters of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, China's war lord.

Tuan is a great grandson of the emperor Chia Ching, whose reign ended about 1820. He is 65 years old.

Italy Buries U. S. Soldier in Special Pantheon

(By Associated Press)

VENICE, April 29.—The body of Richard Cutts Fairfield, one of the first two Americans killed in Italy during the war, was yesterday transferred to the monument in the Mestre Cemetery, near Venice, purposely erected to receive it. Fairfield left Harvard University at the age of eighteen, enlisted in the British Red Cross and came to Italy with one of the first contingents. He was killed in 1916 by an Austrian bomb. Italian soldiers and sailors and a detachment of American blue jackets rendered military honors as the coffin, covered with American and Italian flags, was carried to its last resting place by a detachment of Italian soldiers and sailors. Fairfield's mother, Mrs. James Cummings Barr of New York, witnessed the ceremonies.

HAREM EXPENSES GROW; TURKS HIT

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 29.—The Turkish harem is quickly passing as a part of the Turkish home. Poverty and the need for house room are the causes.

The Turkish pashas, effendis, beys and all the well-to-do of other days whose homes were divided into the harem and the haremlik—that is one-half of a mansion or palace for the women and the other for men, are parting with this luxury as they have parted with their carriages, horses, jewels and lands. The peasants still keep a division of their homes for the privacy of their wives and daughters and children.

Many Turkish women deplore the necessity which compels them to live like the "poor European." They declare that they were happier when living apart, that the home was easier to manage and their husbands, too.

Americans Restrain Allies in Germany

COBLENZ, April 29. — America's representation on the Interallied Rhineland Commission, while described as unofficial, wields as much influence in a consultative capacity upon the decisions taken by the commission as that of the three allied countries officially represented, according to Mr. Rolyn-Jacquemyns, Belgian High Commissioner on the Rhine.

General Allen, acting in his dual capacity of Commander of the American Forces in Germany and representative of the Department of State, attends every sitting of the commission or, when unable to be present, is represented by Colonel Stone of Mississippi.

It is the consensus of opinion among delegations to the Rhineland Commission that America's participation in the deliberations of the commission has had a restraining influence upon extremists in both French and German officialdom

Hawaiia Press Control Hits Seditious Papers

HONOLULU, T. H., April 29.—Interpretation by the attorney general here of the foreign language press control bill, which has been signed by the governor sets forth the belief that the bill does not require foreign papers to file translations until after conviction of publishing seditious matter. The attorney general stated that, inasmuch as the legislature failed to provide funds he regards the enforcement of the bill an adequate check on the foreign papers as difficult.

The press bill passed by the legislature Wednesday, provides for regulation of publications printed in foreign language, penalizing publishers of printed matter of an incendiary or seditious nature in any language by a fine of $1000 or a year's imprisonment or both, for the first offense, and a fine of $5000 or a year's imprisonment, or both, for the second.

Villista Raiders Are Acquitted of Murder

DEMING, N. M., April 29.—All of the sixteen Villistas were acquitted here this afternoon of charges of murder in connection with the raid on Columbus, N. M. The verdict was reached on the first ballot. The jury was out 35 minutes.

The Mexican prisoners faced their second charge of murder in connection with the raid, having been sentenced in 1916, pardoned by former Governor O. A. Larrazolo last November, and since that time re-arrested on new indictments.

In the original lot of captives were 23 men, six of whom were hanged in Deming in 1916. Another was sentenced to hang and his sentence commuted to life imprisonment; 16 pleaded guilty to second degree murder and received sentences of from 70 to 80 years in the State penitentiary. One of the later escaped from prison.

Destroyer Summer Rendezvous Picked

NEWPORT, R. I., April 29.—Narragansett bay is to be the base of the destroyer squadron of the Atlantic fleet this summer. The rendezvous will bring 150 destroyers and auxiliary vessels to these waters. Five destroyers have already arrived.

The main fleet of destroyers, it has just been announced, will leave Charleston, S. C., their winter base, on May 15, and proceed to New York for a stay of two weeks to permit the crews to have shore liberty. The squadron, under command of Rear Admiral A. H. Robertson, will then proceed to Narragansett bay, arriving about June 5.

FIRE PROTECTION AIDED

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Measures for protection against forest fires through State organizations have been stimulated by a $4,000,000 from the Federal government, Colonel Greeley, chief forester, announced today on his return from a six-weeks' inspection trip. More than $1,000,000 already has been appropriated by the 25 States which have perfected organizations to assist in forest protection.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 29.—John Nelson, publisher of the Vancouver World, announced the sale of the property to Charles Campbell of this city. Campbell will take charge next Monday.

PEA APHIS MUST GO, IS DECISION OF SCIENTISTS

Government Expert, Farm Adviser Lee and Growers to Co-operate.

HAYWARD, April 29. — Roy Campbell, government entomologist of the United States bureau of agriculture spent yesterday afternoon in conference with the farm advisor, Marcus Lee, here, on the subject of pea aphis eradication. A. J. Garin and L. M. Turner, prominent pea growers of this district, were present and discussed plans which will be put into effect the first of next season in an effort to rid Alameda county of this pest.

Owing to the recent hot spell which has automatically destroyed the pea aphis in this locality, it will be impossible to put any of the experiments into operation earlier than next year, according to Campbell, who will direct the work at that time. Experiments will be made with nicotine sprays and nicodust which have proved partially successful this last season. There will also be a variety of new tests introduced by the specialist to save next year's crop from the loss that this year's growers have sustained.

VALENCIA CROP BEGINS TO MOVE; IS 20,000 CARS

Early movement of Valencia oranges has started from the southern orchards.

It was estimated from the office of the California Fruit Growers Exchange in San Francisco today that the growers would have for shipment between 18,000 and 20,000 car loads.

Initial quotations on Valencias from the Tulare region are $2.75 f. o. b. shipping point on best sizes, which is about 50 cents under the price at Oakland. At shipping points farther south the price ranges about $3 and will be about $3.50 laid down in Oakland.

These quotations so far from being above the point at which navel oranges are leaving the market here, as was erroneously predicted by market men a few days ago, are about 75c to $1 below.

The last of the navel orange crop now is leaving the markets at a price which constricted market conditions have caused to advance markedly this month.

The fresh supply of Valencias will be of good quality, it is stated, and will be welcomed by the market.

Trade Must Repay Debt, Hoover Idea

By HOLLAND
Exclusive to OAKLAND TRIBUNE

NEW YORK, April 29—While the secretary of state, Charles E. Hughes, is much occupied with our international relations, his colleague in the cabinet, Secretary Hoover, hopes to work out an available plan of co-operation between the department of commerce and the trade and commercial organizations of the United States. This does not mean that the government is to enter business or to remain in such business as it already directs, but instead is to aid business. If there can be such coordination of the commercial organizations of the country as Secretary Hoover hopes will be achieved, one of the immediate results would be the elimination of friction and the putting of an end to that waste which is in the duplication of effort. Secretary Hoover is reported to be encouraged in the hope that a considerable increase in efficiency of production may be attained and in addition a much desired standardizing of products. He has already spoken publicly in favor of the coordination of our land and sea transportation system. He believes that the transportation of commodities by water should supplement railroad transportation and that the two methods need not be brought into dangerous competition.

Dunn declared it will require a ing of $400,000,000 to $500,000,000 annually, to enable railroads whole, to earn an annual return 6 per cent without which they not secure capital to make necessary improvements.

"The remaining $400,000,000 the 20 per cent saving should be to effect an equivalent reduction freight and passenger rates," said

Of normal operating expenses $6,200,000,000 a year $1,000,000,000 was going to labor, Dunn stated.

"Therefore, he said "to make saving estimated by Lauck would reducing payrolls, other expenses must be cut 50 per cent.

"Manifestly, the prices charged the railroads for materials and could not be decreased without greatly reducing wages paid to employes of manufacturing plants, mines."

GREAT TRADE BALANCE.

In any consideration of methods by which our industries and commerce may be aided by the government it is necessary to bear in mind that already a trade balance favorable to the United States unprecedented in the world's history, has been created and little of it has been liquidated. Between the latter part of 1914 and the first days of the present year, this trade balance aggregated seventeen billion dollars. To it must be referred every consideration which has the maintenance and increase of our foreign trade in view. It is one of the items in the tremendous list unknown in the United States at the beginning of the European war. Then we were a debtor nation. Now, including the debt of the allies to the United States and the credit advances which have been made by banks, by individuals and by corporations to those in other countries who are anxious to buy our commodities, we stand a creditor nation by more than thirty billion dollars. Years must pass before that debt is paid.

CAUSE NO ANXIETY.

For March of this year the record reported from Washington of our international trade was the smallest in any month since the beginning of 1915. These figures, however, cause no anxiety in the financial district. Relatively speaking small as was our March international trade, nevertheless it added to the already enormous trade balance in our favor one hundred and thirty-two million dollars.

One reason why this decline in March in our foreign trade occasions no anxiety is the certainty that this trade balance which is within three billions of the amount invested in Victory notes and Liberty bonds, cannot be liquidated in any other way than by the marketing of commodities made in other countries in the United States. That means that there must come a time when our imports of foreign commodities in money value must be greater than our exports. It does not mean, however, that we are to lose the foreign markets we already have obtained. The enormous surplus which American industry and agriculture are capable of producing will and must be marketed in other lands. It does mean, however, that for some years we must buy of other countries commodities in greater amounts than we sell to those countries.

TRADE OF NATION FALLS IN MARCH

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Both exports and imports of the United States to and from Europe and South America fell off sharply in March, as compared with March, 1920, a trade summary issued by the Department of Commerce shows.

Imports from Europe were $76,798,226, compared with $125,410,704, and exports of $199,222,578, against $465,354,332.

Imports from South America were $32,684,603, against $72,951,150; exports, $28,662,881, against $53,991,803.

For the nine months ended with March the trade balance of the United States against Europe was $2,128,719,000; against South America $55,494,000. Exports to Europe aggregated $2,881,925,352, compared with $3,819,995,482 for the same period the year before. Imports were $753,306,291, against $857,590,631.

Coast Firms Preparing For Chinese Consortium

Special to OAKLAND TRIBUNE
By CONSOLIDATED PRESS

By G. T. ROCKWELL.

CLEVELAND, April 29.—Members of the building trades indicate that they will not accept the wage reductions announced by the building trades employers' association and it looks as if there would be a halt to building activities May 1.

The building trades employers' association has fixed a new wage scale for the carpenters of 90 cents an hour and this is expected to prevail in all trades where $1.25 or more an hour was received.

Automobile companies report steadily growing business and while plants making parts are having more orders released, the foundries continue on a very small scale. It is believed that not better than a 5 per cent average is being maintained, indicating that the motor plants have not as yet succeeded in working off their heavy inventories.

Rubber plants continue to speed up with Goodyear turning out nearly 20,000 tires a day. Conditions look very much better in Akron.

Kansas City

By DICK SMITH.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 29.—Generally business in this territory may be said to be marking time, awaiting the benefits expected to come from the recent cut in steel prices and anticipated cuts in freight rates and in building trades wages.

Downturns in prices of grain and other farm products have had an adverse effect on the confidence that had been growing and together with seasonable demands, have increased loans and forced a reduction in bank reserves.

A favorable sign is seen in the reopening of the National Shoe Company factory at Macon, Mo. An increasing demand for shoes, it was said, promises steady work at full capacity.

Although the conservation committee of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association has removed the restriction on new drilling operations, some of the biggest operators are urging that the shut-down movement be continued until the curve of production has been brought down to the curve of consumption.

Encouraged by the Supreme Court decision upholding laws to curb rent profiteering, Governor Hyde of Missouri, has announced that he will ask the legislature to enact such a law when it convenes in extra session next month.

Further shutdowns by lead and zinc operators in the Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma district are forecast in reports from the Picher Oklahoma Camp, where the Eagle Picher company plans to close five plants indefinitely.

To prevent suffering among the miners and their families the operators have organized a relief association through which workers are being employed in building roads and other construction work. The funds are provided by mining companies.

Seattle

By PAUL C. REDRICK

SEATTLE, Wash., April 29.—The most radiant outlook for the Pacific Coast is in the Far East just at the moment, for the reason that semi-official information has been received here that the Chinese consortium is about perfected and is shortly to function, filling United States shipping board vessels and other steamships with steel rails and cargo for the long expected development of China.

It is a fact that very large coast and eastern interests have perfected in Seattle railroad construction, engineering and supply organizations, ready, like the "sooners" in Oklahoma, to "beat the gun" to China when the international consortium releases its thousands of millions of dollars to build railroads, docks and terminals, and open the door to American opportunity in the Far East.

Shipping men and bankers here speak of idle tonnage as the curse of the Pacific.

Much concern is felt in British Columbia and shingle interests because of the predicted passage at Washington of an emergency tariff of Vancouver, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, says, the proposed duty on British Columbia shingles will deprive that industry of its best market, the United States.

Washington and Oregon shingle and lumber manufacturers have inaugurated a campaign to back the emergency tariff bill, to extend markets for coast forest products in the Orient and Mexico, and to withhold production until labor costs are adjusted to conditions and rail rates are arranged to meet southern pine competition in the Central West.

House and apartment rentals stubbornly resist the downward trend of living cost because labor has not been liquidated, although building materials approach or equal pre-war levels. Office space is in demand at firm to higher rates.

Business Miscellany

DIAMONDS STAY UP

NEW YORK, April 29.—Although it is admitted that the jewelry business "could be better," there is little or no pessimism in Maiden Lane. The retailers through the country are known to be doing a better business than their orders to the wholesalers and manufacturers indicate. This is partly due to a desire to liquidate stocks on hand, and in the case of finer jewelry, to a hope that diamond prices are in for a drop. As a matter of fact it is said that only small and imperfect stones have shown a decline. Prices on rough diamonds continue to be maintained by the London syndicate in accordance with its recent statement to the trade that this would be done indefinitely. Platinum is steady at a recent advance.

SUMMER SHOW

BALTIMORE, April 29.—A midsummer style and fashion show is being planned here to run from August 9 to 19. The show will be in an armory, and in addition to fixed exhibits there will be a fashion display each evening. A water pageant also will be held. It will include a parade of motor boats and decorated barges to the Arundel Boat Club grounds, where the models and others will engage in tableaux and a ballet.

DRUG TARIFF

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Senators are beginning to hear from importers and manufacturing consumers of drugs on the subject of the new tariff law. A heavy percentage, estimated by some to be as high as 75, of all drugs used in this country are imported, and it is claimed that an increase in duties would result in largely increased prices.

For Clothing Buyers

NEW YORK, April 29.—While engagement and wedding rings are leading the jewelry fashions of the season, retailers and wholesalers report a rather extraordinary demand for platinum flexible bracelets, set either wholly with diamonds or with combinations of diamonds and emeralds, and diamonds and sapphires. The prices range high in the thousands of dollars.

A smart ball, under supervision of Mrs Vincent Astor, brought out nothing striking in the way of evening gowns, although the display as a whole was quite a handsome one. Society seems clinging to the mode of the winter, and black and white effects were predominant. There were some greens and reds and a still smaller percentage of yellows. Bandeaux of various kinds, generally matching the color scheme of the dress, were largely worn.

BANK STUDENTS LEARN HISTORY OF CALCULATOR

Adding Machine Expert Talks At Institute; Opposes Cheap Help.

Declaring that present conditions are calling for economic office administration more than ever before, W. W. Cooley of the Burroughs Adding Machine company addressed a meeting of the Oakland Chapter of the American Banking Institute last night, inveighing against the employment of "cheap help."

"With the demand for 'Hooverizing' in the office," he said, "the bookkeeping machine will continue to increase in popularity and it behooves every instructor of commercial accounting as well as the old fashioned bookkeeper to know more of the so-called modern methods than is generally known.

AGAINST POOR HELP.

"Accounting was born in the days of Adam when brawn and brain worked together to make the start. Today the colleges of the land are doing their utmost to demonstrate efficient methods. The government, state and nation insist upon uniformity in public institutions, but too many of our merchants look upon the bookkeeper as a necessary expense and endeavor to make that expense as light as possible by hiring cheap help. When one cannot handle all the work, they must have those on whom they can depend and dependable help and cheap help are not one and the same."

Cooley entertained the chapter members with a history of the entire development of numerical accounting since the dawn of civilization.

TELLS OF INVENTION.

Regarding the adding and calculating machine he told the bank students.

"There have been hundreds of patents issued for adding machines in this country alone, many the wild dreams of inventors; others the schemes of promoters. One by one they have shown their utility to be limited if at all practical, until today all that are even recognized can be counted on your fingers, while it is an American invention that today is found in the banks and business houses of every civilized nation.

"The inventor who did so much for the accountants and the business men of the world was a bank clerk named William Seward Burroughs, only twenty-five years old. When he found it took a great portion of his time to find the errors that would creep in regardless of his care, he began an investigation and study of mechanics that soon developed a mechanical adding and listing machine.

"The first Burroughs ever publicly exhibited was shown in St. Louis in 1884. This was the basis of the patent issued in 1888. The first issued for a printing and adding machine. From the basic principle which has never changed and which has stood the test that destroyed so many others, there have been many new improvements in the shape of added possibility through special features."

NEW DECLINE OF 1-4 CENT IN SUGAR RATES REPORTED

Confectionery and Chocolate Are Expected to Indicate Downward Shift.

Sugar today returned to the low level of February 2, when a new cut of a quarter of a cent was announced by refiners on this coast. This is the third recession in four days and marks a fall of a full cent since Wednesday of last week.

It was the belief of jobbers that the end of the decline had not yet been reached.

Today's quotation means a jobbers' price of about $7.85 in Oakland.

Predictions today were that the new decline would immediately be followed by lowering in several other jobbing lines, notably chocolate, which has been weakening and in which a cent more downward revision may be expected. Confectionery lines also are being affected. Several Oakland retailers overloaded with sugar, have taken losses on the week's drop.

Cherry deliveries declined 100 per cent in Oakland today. In other words there were none to be had. The original delivery of about nine pounds yesterday to sell at about 30 cents a pound probably will not be followed by any considerable offerings for some days. The cherries are still too high priced to be very attractive to dealers.

Artichokes, after declining for the last two days, were selling in Oakland today as low as $5 a case. The deliveries have not been over large but the offerings were generally apparently has been satiated for the present and retailers have reduced their takings materially.

Strawberries were stronger today, today, but the offerings were generally improved. Rather green berries which were noticed last week have practically disappeared from the markets. Good berries cost retailers an average of 16 or 17 cents a box today. The trade was reasonably brisk at these figures.

Asparagus again is recovering from its weakening tendency and sold up to nine cents today. Part of the weakening is ascribed to disposition of growers in some sections to fudge on contracts to canneries and to divert asparagus to the markets in the hope of higher returns. Canneries have been demanding full deliveries of the best grass for the last few days.

The Waterfront

While en route to this port from Honolulu the steamship Nanking sent a wireless to the steamship China, on the way to the Orient from this port. The vessels met in midocean and E. Groninger, a German, 18, was found stowed away. He was placed aboard the China to be taken back to Japan, where he boarded the Nanking. It is thought that he escaped from Germany, and was making his way to America. He had no passport and could speak very little of the American language. All the passenger accommodation was taken on the Nanking, and she also had a full load of cargo from the orient.

The lumber mills at Coos Bay are again in full operation after being idle for several months, and are working day and night, owing to the large amount of lumber orders ahead. The steam schooners are beginning to call at that port after being away for some time.

The naval transport Bath arrived at San Diego today from Philadelphia. She has several thousand tons of supplies for the warships at that port, and several enlisted men for the navy, who have been assigned to the fleet on this coast.

The motor schooner Casco arrived in port yesterday afternoon in tow of the steamer Iris from San Pedro. She is en route to Victoria, B. C., and will take on a cargo there for the Arctic Ocean stations of the Hudson Bay Fur Company.

The shipping board steamer West Catanace has been chartered by the Burton Beebe Lumber Company to load lumber at a northern port for New York. She will take almost four million feet, and go by the way of the Panama Canal.

The schooner H. D. Bendixson has finished unloading her cargo of copra at Howard's dock, and was towed to the Municipal dock, where she will remain until a charter can be secured for her.

There is under way at Sitka, Alaska, a company that intends to buy halibut from the fishermen and ship it to British Columbia and Puget Sound. The Sitka Commercial Club has written to the Prince Rupert board of trade urging that a direct steamer service be established between Prince Rupert and Sitka, to carry the fresh fish. Heretofore the fishermen would bring their fish to Puget Sound and sell there. This takes too much time and expense. The little schooners would also outfit there, but when the new market opens for business at Sitka the fishermen will sell their catches there and outfit from the same place.

Three more of the Alaska salmon fleet left their winter quarters at East Oakland harbor today and went to the other side of the bay to finish loading their supplies. Three vessels sailed from the Golden Gate on their way to the Alaska canneries today.

The Monticello steamer Asbury Park is at the Moore's shipyard, having come down from Vallejo to get ready for the summer trade. She will be cleaned and painted, and by May 1 will again enter the summer excursion business on the bay.

Changes of Masters registered at the United States Customs House: Captain K. Hubbenette, steamer Manulani; Captain John Soblin, ship Star of Italy; Captain John Krinkel, bark Emily F. Whitney.

Note—In the above tabulation of tides, the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

od Thief Punished by Russian Refugees

ERIOJKI, Finland, April 29 (The ciated Press) —The 8060 refu- from the recent Kronstadt revo- n in Russia who are quartered Finnish concentration camps here and at Ino have just given a striking example of Bolshevik discipline

The refugees are being fed by American Red Cross officers The other day, one of them was caught by his fellows in the act of stealing a larger share of food than was due to him

The others formed a committee, tried the man found him guilty of stealing food and then appeared before the Red Cross officer

"Please give us enough guns to form a firing squad," they requested "He must be punished," they insisted

"All right" said the officer, but no shooting goes here"

The committee then made the thief strip, although the weather was bitter cold, formed a long line in the woods, including about 150 men, and made the guilty man run naked 100 times from one end of the line to the other, shouting "I'm a thief"
